Capture suspect in downtown GC robbery

Avery Coleman, 18, of 1036 Douglas Ave., Venice, has been charged with armed robbery in connection with a hold-up at 11:05 a.m. Monday at Granny's Nook, 1332 Nineteenth St., in which approximately $60 was taken.

Police alleged that Coleman was located a short time after the robbery hiding under a staircase behind 1837 State St. He had changed into a woman's clothing, including high heeled shoes, and was wearing a wig when found by Patrolman Erwin Keuenhoff, officers alleged.

The man's clothing worn during the robbery, along with the gun and cash were found in a pile on the ground nearby, police alleged.

Sandra Hagopian, co-owner of Granny's Nook, told police a young man entered and asked to see some jewelry. She showed him the jewelry case and he asked to see one specific ring, she related.

When she reached into the jewelry case to get the ring, the young man allegedly pulled a chrome .38-caliber revolver from under his jacket and stated, "Give me your money," police were told.

She gave him about $60 in bills from the register and the robber walked out and walked toward Edison Avenue. Mrs. Hagopian notified an employee of an adjoining store, who ran after the robber, but lost sight of him in the alley between the 1800 blocks of Edison Ave. and State Street.

Patrolman Keuenhoff had been checking parking meters in the downtown area when Mrs. Hagopian informed him she had just been robbed. He searched the downtown area until locating the young man, wearing a woman's clothing, hiding under the staircase.

Police alleged that Coleman gave them a voluntary signed confession on the robbery. His bond was set at $50,000 and he was ordered held in the Granite City Jail, awaiting transportation to the Madison County Jail at Edwardsville.

At Monday night's Granite City Council meeting, a letter of commendation from Chief of Police Ronald J. Veizer to Patrolman Keuenhoff was read. In the letter, Veizer says Keuenhoff's "alertness and diligent search" led to the apprehension, without anyone being injured.

ROBBERY SUSPECT Avery Coleman, 18, of Venice, left, is taken from a squad car by Detective Dave Reubhausen. Coleman allegedly donned a wig, woman's clothing and high heeled shoes after the robbery. Coleman's bond has been set at $50,000. He allegedly has confessed to the crime. (Press-Record Photos by Gary Schneider)

County sewers in use in Mitchell, Pontoon Beach

By GARY SCHNEIDER

Residents of Mitchell and most of Pontoon Beach may now apply for tap-on permits to hook their home sewers into the new sanitary sewers through Nameoki, Chouteau and Venice townships, as the system has been opened up from the Granite City to Long Lake in Pontoon Beach.

Announcement of the opening of the largest portion of the sewer was made Tuesday morning by Gene Futch, superintendent of the sewer district, who said the decision had been reached during telephone conversations between himself and the members of the county's special sewer committee Monday night.

He said some lift stations are not yet operational, keeping the entire system from being opened, but the sewer district is ready to serve all homes west of Long Lake, including most of Pontoon Beach and all of Mitchell.

One lift station not yet in operation is on Westgate Drive, near the home of special sewer committee chairman Louis Whissell. Modifications are to be done on a valve in that lift station.

The only other lift station not yet operational is near Stallings School on Route 162. The proposed electrical connections for that have been approved and the pumps have to be installed and hooked up. Both of those lift stations should be operational within about two weeks and the entire sewer system can be opened at that time.

As the final sections of the new sewer are opened, it will be announced in the Press-Record.

Anyone residing west of Long Lake may now purchase their tap-on permits at the sewer district's mobile home office, 4120 Highway 111 (just north of Pontoon Road) and will receive written instructions on the type of home sewer required.

A list of contractors licensed by the county for sewer work also is available at the mobile home office. Sewers installed by an unlicensed contractor will not be allowed to tap onto the county system, Futch has pledged.

Futch or Foreman Paul Bennett also will aid homeowners in determining where the "T" connection in the county sewer should be located for each home.

Persons applying for a tap-on permit must pay a $25 inspection fee at the time of application and should bring the permanent parcel identification number for their homes, which will be used as an identification number for each sewer. Permanent parcel identification numbers may be obtained from tax bills or by contacting the mortgage companies or the township assessors.

Once a home sewer has been installed, the homeowner must call the sewer district office at 931-3400 and request the inspectors, who will make the actual connection to the county sewers. Homeowners, or contractors are not allowed to make their own connections, Futch stressed.

Two inspectors are on duty full-time to make the connections. Terry Pemberton is the county's inspector for the sewer tap-ons and either Futch or Bennett can serve as the sewer district's inspector.

As of yesterday, 27 tap-on permits had been issued and three properties were actually using the new sewers, including the new Pre-Coat Metals plant on Route 3.

GC city council to meet in town building as aid to handicapped Handicapped persons who have been unable to attend meetings of the Granite City Council in the past on the third floor of the city hall will have an opportunity to attend at least one city council meeting next month.

The council agreed Tuesday night to hold its first meeting in March in the township hall, 2900 Delmar Ave., so persons in wheelchairs and other handicapped persons can attend.

The meeting will begin at 8 p.m. Tuesday, March 3, with a town board meeting, immediately followed by the city council meeting. Since the boundaries of the city and Granite City Township are identical, the city's aldermen also serve as the township board of trustees.

Mayor Paul Schuler said he felt it was appropriate that the first council meeting in the township hall be one of the meetings which begins with a town board meeting and the next regular town board meeting would be March 3. Several aldermen said they have received requests from wheelchair-bound city residents who would like to be able to attend city council meetings.

At one point last year, two men in wheelchairs held protest signs in front of the city hall during a city council meeting objecting to being excluded, because the meetings are on the top (Continued on Page 6)

Gabriel will survey condition of schools

By BILL WINTER

Architect Henry Gabriel, who designed many of the Granite City schools, was selected by the Board of Education Tuesday night to survey all 18 of the school buildings on their compliance with the Illinois Life Safety Code—a law enacted after a Chicago parochial school fire that took more than 100 lives, but which does not govern either Chicago schools or Illinois parochial schools.

The survey will include four buildings that were constructed in conformity with the code—Granite City High School North, Grigsby Junior High School and the Johnson and Parkview elementary schools. With the passage of about a decade since they were built, initial surveys are required for them. Also inspected for varied conditions that might be unsafe will be GCHS South, the Coolidge and Prather junior highs, and the other 11 grade schools—Emerson, Frohardt, Lake, Logan, Marshall, Maryville, Mitchell, Nameoki, Niedringhaus, Webster and Wilson. These structures, built before the code was adopted, were surveyed and modernized in the 1960s and 1970s, and now require re-surveys to meet terms of the state law.

Study Rt. 3 resurfacing

Resurfacing of Old Route 3 from the Madison-Granite City line along Madison Avenue, 20th Street and Missouri Avenue to Pontoon Road would cost between $570,000 and $620,000, according to Illinois Department of Transportation estimates presented to the Granite City Council Tuesday night.

The aldermen agreed that the roadway needs to be resurfaced, but questioned who should finance the resurfacing. City Engineer Monroe Brewer said he requested the IDOT estimates for information to the council. "So we could look into several ways of financing through grants available, such as HAUS (Federal Aid to Urban Systems) and others."

Alderman Warren Decatur of the Fourth Ward said he does not feel it is the city's responsibility to finance the resurfacing, contending that when IDOT abandoned the roadway as a state highway, they promised to resurface it.

Mayor Paul Schuler suggested that IDOT may be saying it does not have the funds to resurface the road to gain support for a hike in the motor fuel tax. "It may be the old carrot and stick routine to drum up support for a tax increase," Schuler told the council. "We have several avenues to explore... This is pretty well needed and I don't think, by any means, we are going to forget about it," he concluded.

IDOT estimated that to fully resurface Madison Avenue from 15th Street to 20th Street and 20th Street northwest to Missouri Avenue would cost $240,000. That could be reduced to $220,000 by tapering the sides so they are not as thick as the center.

To resurface Missouri Avenue through West Granite north to Pontoon Road would cost another $380,000, or $350,000 if the sides were tapered, IDOT estimated.

The letter made no reference to any responsibility by IDOT to do the work.

Crash kills woman; 3 hurt

Mrs. Tina Mary McGrath, 23, of 2821 National Ave., a substitute teacher in the Granite City schools, was killed and three persons were injured when the car she was driving and the auto of Sylvester Goodrich, 36, Jennings, Mo., collided in fog at Route 3 and West Pontoon Road at about 7:30 a.m. Wednesday.

Goodrich has been charged with reckless driving, going too fast for conditions, failure to use his vehicle's headlights when required, and driving on a driver's license which had been suspended since 1975. There were indications a Madison County grand jury may be asked to study the accident further.

Goodrich and two young women who were passengers in Mrs. McGrath's auto were taken by Granite City ambulances to St. Elizabeth Medical Center.

Passengers were Miss Carolyn Lucy, 23, of 2423 Woodlawn Ave., who was in the rear seat and suffered back pains and abrasions to the forehead and both legs, and Miss Sheila Williams, 24, Alton, a passenger in the right front seat of the victim's car. Miss Williams received left knee and head injuries. Both young women were admitted to the hospital in fair condition.

Goodrich was released from St. Elizabeth after being treated for pains in the right leg and right eye area.

According to witnesses, Mrs. McGrath was westbound on West Pontoon Road attempting to cross Route 3 when Goodrich's auto approached northbound at approximately 55 miles per hour in the fog, without headlights illuminated. Goodrich allegedly admitted driving at that speed, but said he had his headlights on. The headlights have been sent to a crime laboratory to determine which is true.

Mrs. McGrath suffered a broken neck, head trauma and internal injuries and was believed killed instantly, according to Madison County Deputy Coroner William Sternberg, who pronounced her dead at 7:50 a.m. yesterday.

She was still trapped in the car when pronounced dead and had to be pried out by rescue workers using the "jaws of life" rescue tool.

A rescue truck and two ambulances were sent to the crash scene along with Granite City police and the deputy coroner.

During the efforts to aid the victims, patches of heavy fog continued to drift through the area.

Northbound traffic on Route 3 was diverted to West Pontoon Road, and westbound traffic on W. Pontoon was restricted to one lane and required to turn left onto Route 3.

Nolan defends city's level of applications for grants

David Nolan, administrative aide to Granite City Mayor Paul Schuler and the person in charge of filing the city's grant applications, told the Press-Record Monday that he was offended by a news release from mayor candidate Daniel Partney which implied that the city has not gotten its fair share of federal grants since mid-1978.

In response, Nolan called the release "incorrect and the accusations and comparisons unjust. I, myself, take the article as being a defamation to my character and my position as the grant person for the city."

Partney had said that Granite City was last among major cities in federal dollars received, outside of Cook County. He said figures from the Department of Local Government Affairs showed Granite City received only $1,831,250 in grant funds between July, 1978, and early 1981, while Alton had received $5,774,982, even though its population is lower than that of Granite City.

Nolan said the Department of Local Government Affairs figures were compiled before the grants were received for the 19th Street overpass and several other major city projects.

He cited figures from the Community Services Administration for the 1977, 1978 and 1979 fiscal years which shows that Granite City has received at least $2.3 million in grant funds, far in excess of Alton's grants.

In 1979, the city received $4.5 million in grant funds, he added.

The also said that according to his figures, "the total federal dollar received in Granite City in 1979 was $50.9 million, $5.8 million over what Alton received. The total per capita cost of grants received per individual is $108.54 and not the $45, as mentioned in the (Feb. 12) article," Nolan contended.

He added, "In just the past year, I have applied for the city directly for more than $600,000, which includes grants for the purchase of electric vehicles and alternative fuel use, gasoline and the like."

"This does not include the yearly grant by HUD (Department of Housing and Urban Development) for the Granite City Housing Authority of approximately $600,000, the yearly air pollution control grant of nearly $50,000, the yearly grant from the Southwestern Illinois Law Enforcement Commission of $12,722 or the $90,000 grant for the sewer study that was due in 1979 and received in 1980.

The figure also fails to consider the industrial pre-treatment sewer study that is going on now amounting to some $60,000, the technical assistance grant with the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency is conducting for the city currently on a trash to energy project feasibility, the recent air quality study that the EPA started in Granite City at its own expense, the Community Development Block Grant funds totaling $550,000, the Department of Transportation funds for the 19th Street overpass totaling $1.5 million or the Southern Illinois Law Enforcement Commission's grants to Coordinated Youth Services totaling $57,000, he contended.

"These are just the major grants that the mayor has pushed hard for and obtained for the city. I, personally feel, that the city has received its fair share of the federal funds available in the past."

"I am currently watching the present situation in Washington for the final outcome of the new Republican administration. As we all should be aware, President Reagan is currently moving to make major cutbacks in all departments of the federal government to take the tax burden off of the citizens."

"With this in mind, I, myself, do not foresee even in 12 months how our present federal grants can be doubled (a pledge made by Partney), even if the city does double the applications which, in itself, does not promise additional funds,"

Urges use of steel shot for waterfowl

Bill Nichols, a Horseshoe Lake area landowner, has just returned from an International Waterfowl Symposium in New Orleans, La., at which those present gave their overwhelming support to the outlawing of the use of lead shot in waterfowl hunting.

The lead problem was pointed out again recently when about 5,000 of the 20,000 geese which landed in the Kricom Marsh in Central Wisconsin died of lead poisoning from eating shot or lead in the water.

Nichols said that marsh is a similar goose refuse to Horseshoe Lake, where a secondary poisoning could develop from lead deposited in the water.

"For many years, I, and hunting groups have advocated the use of steel shot. Some hunters are resisting and poisoning the birds they intend to hunt in future years. We are killing our own sport," Nichols contended.

Nichols has been a member for many years of the Mississippi Flyway Council, made up of representatives of 13 states who meet semi-annually and make recommendations on the length of waterfowl seasons, total harvest each year and other hunting regulations.

County buys autos

The Madison County Board at its February meeting on Wednesday purchased 43 new autos for the sheriff's department at a cost of $310,000 from Ackerman Buick of St. Louis County.

Book is a 4-letter word at junior high

The book entitled "The Snake" is being suspended from use in the Grigsby Junior High School library pending a study of its merit or lack of merit.

"Saying it had been loaned to a 12-year-old as well as about five other junior high school students, Board member David Partney assailed the book as obscene at Tuesday night's Granite City School Board meeting.

"Showing four-letter words in the book to other board members, Partney described it as "filthy" and said it is more extreme in its language than are magazines like Playboy.

"Supt. B. J. Davis said the book apparently had been delivered under normal purchase procedures, but that mistakes sometimes occur. Dale C. Rea, assistant to the superintendent, recalled an earlier instance in which a different book had been delivered but was rejected by a librarian before being made available to students.

"At the junior high school, the book was selected with the aid of Winchell's Guide to Reference Books and such groups as the National Association of English Teachers and the National School Library Association, Supt. Davis said.

"The established policy that will be implemented provides an appeal process to the public when a book controversy arises. After the book is reviewed, a report on its status will be made to the board.

"The policy basically calls for libraries and media centers to implement, to enrich and support the educational program of the school."

Other objectives are "the development of reading skill, literary taste, and discrimination in choice of materials," and "instruction in the use of materials and libraries."

"The policy adds, 'The school library should contribute to development of the social, intellectual, and moral values of the students.'"

"Materials for the school library should be selected by professional personnel in consultation with the administration, faculty and students. This selection shall be made with the aid of reputable, unbiased selection tools."

Transit boards plan joint meeting Friday

Regional planning for future mass transportation may begin tomorrow as the first joint meeting of the Madison and St. Clair County transit district board is to be held.

The Madison County Mass Transit Board will meet at 1:30 p.m. in the offices of the Southwestern Illinois Metropolitan Area and Regional Planning Commission in Collinsville, followed by a joint meeting with the St. Clair County transit board at 3 p.m.

Among the regional concerns is control of Bi-State bus routes in this area and planning for future mass transit, either by Bi-State or by some other entity.

The Madison County Transit Board is expected to contract with the East-West Gateway Coordinating Council to have one of the district's transit experts serve as the temporary transit director for the Madison County portion of the district, until a job description can be prepared and a permanent director can be hired, according to Bill Haine, chairman of the Madison County district.

Campus housing for 2,000 urged

Recommendations for additional on-campus housing at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, providing living quarters for 2,000 students, are being studied by campus constituency groups and are expected to be turned over to President Earl Lazerson for his consideration in the near future.

The recommendations are contained in the Student Housing Feasibility Study, prepared at the request of a Housing Study Group consisting of faculty, staff and students, under the direction of Dr. James R. Buck, director of development and public affairs.

Estimated cost of the complex, described as a compromise between traditional dormitories and apartments, is $22 million, to be financed by revenue bonds.

The facilities, occupying nearly 350,000 square feet, would be located near the academic core area of the campus.

Pres. Lazerson said the study, prepared in response to the energy shortage and increased demands for student housing, will be further evaluated by his office after it has been reviewed by the Physical Facilities Committee of the Planning and Budget Council and other constituency groups. He hopes to present recommendations on the project to the Board of Trustees at either its March or April meeting.

According to the study group, the proposed complex, which would include 250 eight-student units, would not have kitchen facilities for each unit, although limited food preparation and storage capability would be included.

Located in the area south of Circle Drive and the University Center, it would be close enough to the Center to provide access for complete food service, as well as library, study, and recreational facilities.

Established as a commuter institution, local university currently has about 10,000 students on-campus housing at Tower Lake Apartments for 1,350. The apartments, with 496 units housing both married students, have a continuing waiting list of 300 to 500 applicants.

Career day Feb. 25 at university

A career information day that will bring representatives of 35 companies to Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville to talk to students about their futures in business is scheduled Wednesday, Feb. 25.

The day will open at 9 a.m. in Goshen Lounge of the University Center. The event will be sponsored by University Placement Services and Delta Sigma Pi, the business fraternity.

"The companies can help students plan a curriculum for a career in the business world, or let them know what skills that firms will be looking for," said David Van Horn, director of Placement Services.

The information day is open to all students of SIUE and area colleges. Van Horn has also invited juniors and seniors from area high schools, and their counselors, who may be interested in additional help in getting ready to go to college or directly into the business world.

"It may be the only chance many students will get to talk to a group of employers in one setting," Van Horn said.

The companies, representing service, technical or manufacturing industries, governments, retail merchandising, engineering, the armed forces and health care, will set up information tables around the lounge.

The American Camping Association, with member summer camps across the country, also will be on hand with information about traditional summer employment in lifeguarding, water safety and counseling.

When the permanent campus was opened in 1965, it was believed it would be suitable for students to commute as far as 50 miles.

But the current study shows transportation costs are such that if a student lives more than 10 miles from campus and travels alone to the university four times per week, it is cost-effective for the student to live near or on the campus.

The study indicates a shortage of available housing in the area, and mass transportation systems do not provide necessary service to the campus from many communities in which SIUE students live.

Dr. Buck said only one service line of the Bi-State bus system serves the campus, and complex mass transit systems, that could serve the university's dispersed student population are not expected to develop.

A Madison County planning commission report estimates that the county will need an additional 11,467 housing units by 1985, and 26,697 new units by the year 2000. Of the latter, 5,692 should be rental units, the commission said.

It identified the SIUE area as one in which rental housing development should be emphasized because of the housing demand from university students. But the SIUE study group contends adequate increases in stock, resulting in increasing rent levels, may price new facilities out of the reach of students.

According to the housing study, the proposed project is feasible at rent levels of $130 per student per month, with all utility costs except telephone, included.

Based on recent surveys, university officials estimate the annual student demand for on-campus housing to be in the range of 3,000 to 3,500 students, exclusive of the demand currently met through the Tower Lake Apartments.

A survey of the freshman class of 1980 indicated that 41 percent would have preferred to live on campus. And in the fall of 1979, a survey of students who were admitted but did not enroll showed that 24 percent did not enroll because of housing, or transportation problems.

A survey of students registering for the winter quarter of 1980 revealed that of the off-campus residents, 28 percent wished to live on-campus, and 22 percent indicated they might desire to live on-campus.

Dr. Buck said the study group concluded that as transportation costs continue to rise, the alternative of on-campus housing will become even more attractive and cost-effective for SIUE students.

The study further reveals that correspondence from high school and community college counselors confirms "that a major factor in the ability of SIUE to serve students throughout the region is the availability of campus housing facilities."

There are four community college districts in the university's service region, and a survey of 1978 student enrollment at those colleges indicated 6,300 were enrolled with a declared intention of completing a baccalaureate degree.

Scholarship Foundation to meet Feb. 24

A special meeting of the Granite City Scholarship Foundation Council has been called and will be held on Tuesday, Feb. 24, at 7:30 p.m. in the office of James Dumont, principal of Granite City High School South.

The purpose of the meeting is to appoint members of various special committees for 1981, and to transact such other business as may come before the meeting.

At least one representative from each member organization is expected to attend. The meeting marks the beginning of the Foundation's most active period of the year, which culminates with the awarding of scholarships at the two Granite City high schools shortly before graduation time.

"SIUE views these students as prospective enrollees for the completion of a baccalaureate work, but housing availability is a key issue in their ability to continue their education here," Dr. Buck said.

The director of development and public affairs said the development of on-campus housing facilities would support the university's recruitment, retention and marketing efforts and its continuing education program activities.

He said it also would generate other benefits for the institution, including: a larger residential student base, with increased interaction between students, faculty and staff; increased support and utilization of other university facilities such as libraries, computing facilities, bookstores, food services, recreation and entertainment opportunities; and an enrichment of the university's experience for both residential and commuting students.

Examining several options for meeting student housing needs, the university retained consultants who investigated the possibility of private development directed at the student market.

The consultants concluded that because of construction costs, interest rates, and the structure of area rent levels, adequate increases in stock, resulting in increasing rent levels, may price new facilities out of the reach of students.

Other options rejected as not feasible included an on-campus mobile home park development, and a partnership-type arrangement between the university and housing developers.

Industry eyeing Granite

A Bethalto realtor who has been searching for a site for a national manufacturing firm which would ultimately employ approximately 200 persons is now looking at Granite City, the city council was told Tuesday night.

Charles E. Baker Realty notified Pontoon Beach in January that the village was among the areas under consideration for the industry's placement and requesting copies of the village's zoning ordinances, building codes, subdivision regulations and other laws to be studied.

Village Clerk Mary

Warren contacted the realty firm and found that a site is being sought for a large industry, but the realtor declined to name the industry or to describe the type of manufacturing operation.

Tuesday night, the same firm notified Granite City officials that it is studying this community as a possible site and requesting information about the city and its industrial possibilities.

Mayor Paul Schuler told the council that he will answer the inquiry. "We are always glad to show off this community and the benefits it could give new industry," Schuler commented.

Felony theft alleged

William Amos Ghoslon, 24, St. Louis, has been charged with a felony count of theft in an informational document issued by the Madison County State's attorney's office in connection with the theft of $100 cash and a check from Automotive Safety Service, 700 Madison Ave., Madison.

It is alleged that he was in the business last week and took the money from a cash register while the owner was waiting on another customer. When he left the business, the owner notified

Madison police, who stopped his car in the 900 block to Madison Avenue. Officers alleged seeing Ghoslon hand money to a woman in the back seat of the car.

The money and a check to Automotive Safety Service were recovered from the woman and she and Ghoslon were taken into custody. The woman was booked as a material witness, but later was released.

Ghoslon was taken to the Madison County Jail in Edwardsville for arraignment.

Schuler backers gather

More than 150 persons attended the second meeting of the Young Citizens for Schuler organization last week in the Veterans of Foreign Wars post in Granite City and heard City Clerk Robert W. Stevens discuss voter registration and applying for absentee ballots.

Dave Nolan, a Granite City Park District commissioner and administrative aide to Mayor Paul Schuler, spoke on the mayor's accomplishments and the progress the city and township have made in the past four years.

Joe Schuler, the mayor's youngest child, was the master-of-ceremonies and introduced the speakers. Also introduced were City Treasurer Nick Petrillo, Township Assessor Van Dee Cruse, Stevens and Township Supervisor Nelson Hagauer, who are running on the same ticket as Schuler in the April 7 election.

Food and refreshments were served and the group was entertained by the country rock group Spur.

At a meeting of the Young Citizens for Schuler is to be scheduled in March, it was announced.

Venice school board delays hiring Hartman replacement

A decision was made by the Venice Board of Education on a replacement for Board Attorney Lawrence T. Hartman at its meeting Monday night.

Hartman, who resigned his resignation at a previous meeting of the board, citing pressure of business. He had served as school attorney for the last 15 years.

Outgoing of the board's consideration regarding a new attorney probably will be announced at the March 9 meeting.

In other business, board members gave permission to Coach Ken Perkins of the Venice High School Athletic Department to attend a March 24 meeting and get details of the proposed formation of a new athletic conference.

Supt. of Schools Robert Vickers, who recommended the action, said Coach Perkins reported several high schools, such as Worship, Superior, Nelson (Alton), Metro-East Lutheran, St. Paul's (Highland) and St. Henry's (Highland), are considering joining the conference.

Following the new conference status in the planning stage, the superintendent stated, "I believe it would be a good thing for our soccer and softball programs to have an affiliation with these schools."

Board President Jack Tolliver said at a conference of the type being discussed should prove a "pretty fair match up for the size of the schools involved."

The board went on record as supporting the efforts being made in the formation of a conference.

Supt. Vickers said a total of $112,000 in tax anticipation warrants has been used to date and Venice district will have to continue to utilize such warrants until replacement tax payments are received, starting in March.

A $65,000 corporate property tax replacement check was received in January and similar amounts are expected by the Venice district in March, April, May, June and July, he advised the board.

A final settlement on taxes from the county tax collector also has not yet been received, the administrator said.

Based on previous tax collections, which averaged 93 percent, Supt. Vickers should have an elevator or some means for the handicapped to reach regular council meetings and Mayor Schuler responded, "It would be very expensive, but it is being studied."

In other business, the council agreed to pay travel and lodging expenses for Schuler to go to Washington, D.C., next week to try to speed up the release of surplus land and buildings at the Granite City Army Installation.

Schuler said he has been in telephone contact with U.S. Congressman Melvin Price (D-East St. Louis) for the last three or four weeks, trying to clear the hurdles necessary for the city to assume ownership of the surplus property, but had encountered another block.

The board authorized purchase of 510 physical fitness awards for $510 from the American Alliance for Health, Physical Education and Recreation and Dance. The awards will go to students who have matched or exceeded specified physical performance levels.

"Because of a delay in receipt of federal Title IV-B funds, it was decided to return initial bids on microcomputer units and seek new bids this spring. In addition to the units sought for high education funds will be used to obtain microcomputers for junior high school classes."

An increase in the quantity may result in a lower price, Dale C. Rea, assistant to the superintendent, said.

A 64-volume record on a variety of bills submitted for board approval, David Partney, who dissented, voiced concern that some food items may have been "overlooked."

It was decided to apply for a $2,940 grant to conduct a summer workshop on career education.

The school district will allow students to participate voluntarily in a poster contest to help publicize an annual community clean-up campaign scheduled for April 27 to May 1.

Noting that a hearing officer ruled against the position of the school district following a special education hearing held in January, the board decided to seek a review by the state education office.

Business-Industry-Education Day will be observed here April 22, with the Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce helping arrange for representatives of businesses and industries to visit schools and gain an understanding of school curriculum and curricula.

Classes will operate as usual that day.

The one Saturday performance of the world famous Bloomington Passion Play in Bloomington, Ill., will be given this year on April 11, the day before Palm Sunday, according to an announcement of the Rev. Don F. Pierson, pastor of the Nameoki United Presbyterian church.

Tickets for this performance were secured by the church last July, the minister added.

The cost of admission and bus transportation is set at $17.50 and is being offered by the Nameoki Church as a community service.

Reservations must be made no later than Thursday, Feb. 24, by calling 877-4470, Rev. Pierson said.

modifications in the event the school district asks the Madison County state superintendents to certify specific remodeling proposals as being related to the Life Safety Code.

A list of remodeling work totaling $245,700, believed by Granite City school officials to be both desirable and necessary over the next five years, projects costing $274,400 probably could be defined as affecting building occupants' lives and safety.

The board decided to issue bonds without a direct referendum and also without a "backdoor referendum" as there is an insufficient balance in the building fund and when remodeling is essential for fire prevention and life safety.

An energy conservation survey of the schools, also being done under the supervision of Architect Gabriel, is nearing completion, Supt. B. J. Davis said.

At the board Tuesday night, in other business, it was decided to establish a program accounting by computer "software" from the Granite City School District for $1,000.

After this spring, officials here will modify it to meet the needs of the local district.

Charles French, an accountant with J. Schlosser and Company, will be paid as needed at $35 an hour to work on the Curtis R. McDonald, director of business affairs, during the transition.

McDaniel and Thomas G. Noeth, administrative assistant for computer services, are recommending that the district continue to use its present IBM Systems III Model 10. It is to handle program accounting in addition to accounts payable and general ledger accounts.

McDaniel related that "since we, by state mandate, must be on program accounting by July, we recommend the purchase and modification of the Palatine system, even though we expect some difficulty in modification.

"The switch from one chart of accounts to another is further complicated because we will, at the same time, be involved in computerizing our manual accounting system to generate within our business office the monthly reports currently being done by auditors."

The board decided to install salad bars in the two high schools' cafeterias. After considering bids on equipment and related supplies, the board approved purchases totaling $2,458 from Peerless Hotel Supplies and $113 from Switzer. The salad bars are believed likely to be cost-effective, Supt. Davis said.

Custodial chemicals will be provided by Huntington Laboratories, $7,584, City Janitor Supply $2,083, Freezemore $1,190 and Moore Research, $1,101.

It was agreed to accept as a gift from General Motors a new automobile for the district's vocational automotive instructional program at GCHS North.

The only expense will be towing the auto from a Venice railroad siding.

Dr. Rosalyn Lepley, a Granite City physician, will donate her older medical books and magazines to GCHS South health education classes for use as resource materials.

The board purchased an $899 wheelchair from United Medical Mart for a special education pupil. The chair is to be used by a specific child, and later will remain with the school where the youngster currently attends.

United Medical is the only authorized dealer for the particular chair that is needed, administrator said.

The school district will be reimbursed under an extraordinary care program.

The hazardous waste materials department of the Department of Defense has ordered the release of land halted until it can be shown that no hazard exists on the property, Schuler said.

"I told Cong. Price Thursday that there are an awful lot of jobs that can be created by this," Schuler stated, adding that delays are just allowing the surplus warehouses on the property to deteriorate.

"I would like to ask the council for travel and lodging to go to Washington, D.C., next week to visit with the Department of Defense and get this thing off dead center," Schuler said and the council concurred in the request.

"Because of a delay in receipt of federal Title IV-B funds, it was decided to return initial bids on microcomputer units and seek new bids this spring. In addition to the units sought for high education funds will be used to obtain microcomputers for junior high school classes."

First Bank promotes 6

Six employees of First Granite City National Bank were promoted during the annual meeting of the Board of Directors of the bank following the annual stockholders meeting Tuesday.

Harley G. Davis, executive vice president, was appointed to head the Financial Services Division of the bank, adding responsibilities for commercial account relationships while continuing to be responsible for individual retirement accounts, repurchase agreements, large certificates of deposit and overall marketing supervision.

Raymond R. Burton, formerly assistant vice-president of commercial loans, was named vice-president in charge of the Consumer Loan Department.

Thomas E. Holloway, former assistant vice-president, was named vice-president of commercial loans.

Elmer L. Wortham, formerly auditor, was named vice-president and auditor, and Mattie Pope, formerly assistant cashier, was named manager of the bank's Bellemeor Village facility.

The board retained S.E. Pershall Jr. as chairman of the board and chairman of the executive committee and Melvin C. Wilmseyer as president of the bank.

He said the promotions announced were made "to assure continued prompt service to our customers."

Directors re-elected were Dr. Maria Bauer, Earl C. Buenger, Davis, Wilbert Engleke, Joseph Glick, Pershall, Carl A. Rant, John W. Reese, James V. Stuck and Wilmseyer.

Wilmseyer, reporting on the bank's progress during the past year, said, "Our bank has continued its steady growth pattern during 1980. Deposits have increased approximately $8 million, giving the bank total assets over $100 million at year end for the first time in the bank's history."

Earnings also reached $882,000 for the first time, a nine percent increase over 1979, Wilmseyer added.

"A portion of the past year's growth can be attributed to the opening of the bank's Bellemeor facility. We are able to give prompt, experienced and efficient service to our customers at both the downtown and Bellemeor locations during peak traffic periods," he said.

"However," he added, "the most dominant factor for continued growth may well be the professional approach to banking demonstrated by our employees and officers. The high quality of service performed by our employees while helping others made it easy to adopt our marketing theme for the year, 'People make the difference.'" he concluded.

Other officers reappointed Tuesday were Charles L. Gavin, senior vice-president and secretary of the board of directors; John H. Tallgren, vice-president and trust officer; L.J. Pitman, vice-president, cashier and security officer; Earl G. Dotzauer, vice-president and comptroller; Herbert S. Camren, vice-president; T.J. Conrad, vice-president and director of data processing; Laveda M. Knobbe, assistant trust officer; Vernon Dale Smith, assistant director of data processing; and Edward Uberick, Merle Rose, Jay B. Fineshriber, Frank J. Kierski and Randy E. Vollmar, assistant cashiers.

Three churches set Lenten services

Three downtown churches, who have been promoting joint worship hours, community projects and friendship and fellowship among the congregations, have planned Lenten season services to begin on Ash Wednesday, March 4.

According to the host pastors, this will be the sixth year for the churches to combine Lenten services on Wednesday evenings each week with two services at each participating church.

The initial worship hour will begin at 7:30 p.m. on March 4 at the First United Presbyterian Church, pastored by the Rev. David Maxton. The second service is scheduled for the same time on March 11, at the Presbyterian Church.

The Rev. James Brown, minister of St. Peter's Evangelical United Church of Christ, 2101 Cleveland Blvd., will conduct Lenten observances at 7:30 p.m. on both March 18 and March 25.

Niedringhaus United Methodist Church, 20th Street and Delmar Avenue, will be the scene of the final two worship segments set for 7:30 p.m. on April 1 and April 8, with the Rev. Louis Frick officiating.

Each year the three churches have a special project and once again will be helping Heifer Project International.

In previous years the trio of churches have listed the amount of money needed to buy the different animals which are sent to deprived countries as living gifts to enrich and sustain life.

Now, they have been invited to join in a work camp at World Headquarters of HPI, just outside of Little Rock, Ark.

Each of the churches is allowed eight young people or adults to participate in the work camp, which will start on June 21 and conclude on June 17. Total cost of the trip will be $47 plus meals while traveling to and from Arkansas.

On March 1, a representative will be in the area from the World Headquarters of HPI to discuss the work camp with the three participating churches.

The work camp includes painting, engaging in carpentry and in general, helping in the battle and other buildings, according to a church spokesman.

A deposit of $30 must be made by March 1 to insure a reservation for the trip, the ministers explained.

Area residents are invited to attend all the Lenten services, according to the pastors.

Forum Feb. 25 on Air Act changes

A panel of experts from government, industry and education will look at the results of a recent study by the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency to determine the potential effects of reclassifying portions of Madison, Monroe and St. Clair counties under the federal Clean Air Act at a public forum Wednesday, Feb. 25, at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

The purpose of the proposed change is to make the areas more attractive to industry. The forum is sponsored by the SIUE Department of Economics and is preliminary to a required public hearing March 2 at the city clerk's office in Collinsville.

Area officials have until March 10 to send recommendations to the governor who will share in the final decision.

Proponents of the reclassification say it is necessary to stimulate industrial expansion.

Cage contest to aid youth athletic fund

The battle on the basketball court between Granite City police officers and firemen for possession of the Mayor's Cup will resume at 8 p.m. Thursday, Feb. 26, in Memorial Gymnasium at Granite City High School South.

Proceeds from the ninth annual basketball game will benefit the Officer Friendly Youth Athletic Fund.

The fund finances the purchase of equipment and registration fees for athletic squads, sponsored by the police department's Officer Friendly program.

Without the fund, many local youngsters would be unable to take part in community sports programs, it was noted.

Tickets, costing $2 each, which will admit one adult or two children under 12 years of age, may be obtained from all three fire stations, police headquarters or Madison County Federal Savings and Loan, co-sponsors of the game.

Watsons will be entertained at half-time by Pam Rowden, a widely respected gymnast who is a student at Granite City High School North.

Miss Rowden will be featured together with several of her students, who will participate in the Granite City Park District's advanced gymnastic classes. The last time the firefighters, plus emergency medical technicians, and police officers met was in 1976 when they battled into overtime before the firemen won the Mayor's Cup.

The fire department had claimed the first victory eight years ago, which was followed by two consecutive wins by the police department in 1974 and 1975.

The intra-city championship trophy was donated by Granite City Mayor Paul Schuler and is inscribed with the name of the winning team and the year.

Since 1976, the police and fire departments had formed a combined team to compete against the Big Red All-Stars, who are missing from this year's lineup.

Today, "Officer Friendly" Fred Hoffman announced the team rosters for the Feb. 26 game.

Members of the police cage squad will include Mike Murgie, Ken Crawford, Dave Rosenberg, Dave Ruebhausen, Jerry Duncan, Don Peitrella, Fred Hoffman and Rich Schardan.

HANGING ON to the Mayor's Cup, albeit temporarily, is "Officer Friendly" Fred Hoffman of the Granite City Police Department. Possession of the trophy will be determined in the ninth annual basketball game, featuring police officers and firemen, to benefit the Officer Friendly Youth Athletic Fund. The event is set at 8 p.m. Thursday, Feb. 26, in Memorial Gymnasium at Granite City High School South. (Press-Record Photo by Pat Foley)

Knights of Columbus donate $12,900 to groups

The Tri-Cities Chapter of the Knights of Columbus, Council 1098, this week donated a total of $12,900 to three local organizations whose sole purpose is to help those less fortunate.

Equal checks for $4,300 were presented to the Tri-City Area Mentally Retarded Association, OATH, Inc. (Organization for the Advancement of the Handicapped), and the Alpha Center for Women.

The $12,900 had been raised through a long-standing fund-raising project earmarked for providing a halfway house for the mentally retarded who do not have others to care for them, but, according to a spokesman for the council, "after several years of striving to accumulate enough money to take the initial step; and after much research endeavoring to accomplish this unique endeavor, it was found that the monetary outlay of such a gigantic project was insurmountable."

The council members then voted to have Grand Knight August Sacadat appoint a committee to determine the best way to use the money to help these in need.

Committee members appointed were James "Jim" DeRuntz and John J. Jakich, co-chairmen, with Roy Ponce, Steve Saltich Sr., Edward Boyer, Rudy Hoffek and A.L. "Pete" Metcalf.

After considerable evaluation, including a discussion with the full council, the committee agreed that the idea of supporting a halfway house was beyond the funding abilities of the council and recommended, instead, that the funds be equally divided among the three organizations.

The council concurred in the recommendation and the checks were distributed this week.

HEARTFELT GIFTS from the local Knights of Columbus are given this week to three organizations which aid those less fortunate. Checks for $4,300 each were presented to OATH, Inc. (Organization for the Advancement of the Handicapped), the Tri-City Mentally Retarded Association and the Alpha Center for Women. Seated, from left, are Ed Boyer of the Knights; Mrs. Barbara Reedy, an officer of the Alpha

Anti-burglar tips include lighting

The number of burglaries reported nationwide jumped 12 percent during the first six months of 1980, according to the Federal Bureau of Investigation. This is in contrast to a six percent increase in 1979.

A major insurance company has prepared the following tips: Always keep a light burning in your home when you're gone — preferably upstairs, where a burglar can't check to see if the room is empty. If you're going to be out for several nights, consider investing in an automatic timer that turns lights on and off at regular intervals.

Don't leave ladders or tools outside the house. They could be used by a burglar to break into your home.

Overgrown shrubs and bushes make great hiding places, so keep them trimmed. Burglars also love the cover of darkness, so illuminate the exterior of your house.

If you leave your house for an extended period of time, make sure it still looks lived in. Cancel all regular deliveries such as mail and newspapers, and make arrangements for someone to mow your lawn or shovel your driveway.

Since locks are one of the most important tools used in protecting your home, make sure yours are of high quality. Dead-bolt and key-operated locks are good choices. However, be careful of locks which require a key to open them from the inside, since they could prevent a quick escape during a fire. Don't carry an identification tag listing your name and address with your keys. They might fall into the hands of a thief who could easily locate your house.

It's also a good practice to remove all keys from coat pockets before checking or hanging your coat in public places.

Use a marking tool to engrave your license or Social Security number on the backs of valuables such as stereos and television sets. Check with your police department, many offer this service or similar programs free of charge.

One of the best ways to deter a thief is by installing a burglar alarm. There are several different systems on the market, ranging from horn or siren alarms designed to scare intruders away, to silent ones which transmit a signal to a central security headquarters. Whatever kind you decide to buy, make sure detectors are on every door and window. You don't want to leave any part of your house unprotected.

Some of the best allies in your fight against burglary could be your neighbors. Offer to watch over their houses when they're on vacation, and ask them to do the same for you. Encourage them to take part in community check programs, and to report any suspicious activities in the neighborhood to the police immediately.

There's no sure way to completely safeguard your home against burglary. But by following these tips, you can decrease your chances of falling victim to a thief.

Applications being taken for Nameoki tap-on grants

Nameoki Township residents who qualify for sewer tap-on assistance from the township, including qualifying residents of Pontoon Beach, are being urged to file an application immediately with the township for a grant of up to $300 per home to hook their home sewers into the new community sanitary sewers.

With Tuesday's announcement that the sewers are now open to Horseshoe Lake on the east, a large portion of Pontoon Beach and several other portions of the township may begin tapping into the sewer system.

Eligibility for a tap-on grant from the township is determined by family income. A person living alone may earn up to $8,450 per year and still qualify. For a couple, the maximum income is $9,675 per year. For three persons in a family, it is $10,876; for four, $12,100; for five, $12,425, and for six, the maximum family income to qualify is $13,775.

Homeowners also must occupy their own homes or be purchasing them on a contract for deed. Renters are excluded. They must be residents of Nameoki Township and they must provide proof of ownership and income.

Social security checks, W-2 forms or other proof of family income must be shown when the application is submitted to the township. Copies of unpaid bills for medical, food or utility expenses also must be shown, according to Davis.

The homeowners also will be required to show a tax bill, contract for deed or other document showing that the occupant owns or is purchasing is home.

Anyone residing in a flood hazard area will be requested to show proof that they have flood insurance, Davis added.

Special consideration will be given to the elderly, minorities and the handicapped, but it is hoped that there will be sufficient funds to aid all of those who qualify for a grant, he said.

Applications are being accepted weekdays until March 16. Persons planning to apply are asked to call the township office at 931-1230 for an appointment.

Rainey enlists

Terry Lynn Rainey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Willard Rainey of 705 29th St., has enlisted in the U.S. Air Force's Delayed Enlistment Program, according to Sgt. Clark E. Jarrett, Air Force recruiter at 3875 N. Meade Road, here.

Rainey is, a 1978 graduate of Granite City South High School. Upon graduation from the Air Force's six-week basic training course, he is scheduled to receive technical training as a Security Specialist.

He was once believed that every doctor was well acquainted with each patient, sensitive to individual needs, willing to make house calls at any hour, caring for people from cradle to grave with kindness and personal attention. The old-fashioned general practitioner delivered babies, performed surgery, and managed the medical problems of childhood, adulthood and old age.

In reality, prior to World War II, physicians had limited medical knowledge. Their skills were crude, and they practiced medicine more as an art than as a science.

In fact, they were not always available when needed, nor were they as supportive as they are often portrayed. Despite their limitations, they apparently met the public's expectations, and their idealized image persisted.

General practitioners themselves, however, seem to be a vanishing breed. Today, many people cannot find a family doctor who will provide continuity of care over a lifetime.

Medicine may be more scientific, but it is also less humane. We must find a way to meet the public's demands for personalized care that will satisfy social and psychological needs as well as treat disease.

A VANISHING BREED. "What happened to the general practitioner? Much of the history can be told in terms of specialization. At the turn of the century, almost all physicians entered general practice; the few who specialized received benefits of more money and greater prestige.

In 1901, general practitioners constituted 83 percent of all physicians in private practice; by 1976, only 21 percent.

In addition to general practitioners, internists and pediatricians also provide general family care. But all primary care providers combined declined from 94 per 100,000 population in 1951 to 40 per 100,000 in 1976.

A steadily growing proportion of physicians is in increasingly specialized practice.

SPECIALIZATION IS IN. The career choices of successive generations of medical students mirror the growth of specialized medicine.

After World War II, biomedical research entered a period of unprecedented activity and financial support, and the basic sciences of the common ailments that lead people to see a doctor, the question of imbalance becomes a legitimate concern.

University hospitals, centers for medical research and treatment of complex and rare diseases, became the training ground for medical students.

Since general practitioners were not ordinarily represented on medical school faculties nor on medical staffs of teaching hospitals, medical students had little or no exposure to general family practice.

The result was that specialists displaced generalists. And the type of care that generalists delivered declined.

It also was not long before subspecialization appeared. The forces that gave rise to specialization include a medical knowledge explosion and a medical technology explosion which jointly led to the subdivision of medical activities and to the multiplication of recognized medical specialties.

From 20 in the 1930s to 34 in the 1960s and 63 in 1976.

Some specialists form groups using common methods or technologies, such as surgery and radiology.

Others concentrate on an organ or bodily system, such as eyes or skin.

Still others, such as pediatricians or geriatricians, treat patients in a particular age group.

The ideal size of any given medical specialty and optimal balance among the many fields have received relatively little attention.

One thing is clear: the incentives provided by social status, professional prestige, and income all favor specialization over general practice.

WHAT PRICE SPECIALIZATION? Specialization brings both advantages and disadvantages. Benefits attributed to specialization include improved treatment of diseases with the use of antibiotics; making the consequences of some diseases more tolerable with devices like kidney dialysis and heart pacemakers; and broadening the scope of care through rehabilitation.

Specialization has increased the capability and competence of physicians in diagnosing and treating many illnesses and injuries. These are significant accomplishments. But there is another viewpoint.

When only about one-third of all physicians are trained to provide care for chronic illness or routine care appropriate for 85 to 90 percent of the common ailments that lead people to see a doctor, the question of imbalance becomes a legitimate concern.

How much specialization is beneficial? For whom? Do the benefits outweigh the costs? And have medical activities become so excessively subdivided to warrant a public outcry?

In addition, patients are disturbed about skyrocketing costs of technology-intensive care and the more simple, personal care of a generalist would be adequate.

The costs of care also increase because specialization frequently requires that patients see several doctors, thus absorbing more patient time, multiplying fees, and occasionally duplicating services.

Other drawbacks of specialization include the increase in hospital emergency room visits for lack of more suitable sources of general care and the consequent discontinuities, lack of coordination, mechanization, and depersonalization of care.

Furthermore, specialists tend to practice in attractive urban areas, where there is an abundance of physicians leaving less desirable areas under-served.

Neglect of prevention and health education are additional costs associated with specialization as currently practiced.

GENERALISTS OF THE FUTURE. The time has come for medicine to change its course.

To assure that societal needs are met, medicine must find a way to combine scientific sophistication with preventive medicine, patient counseling, and personal, humanistic caring.

One way to accomplish this is to train an adequate number of generalists—and pay them adequately for services that will broaden the doctor-patient relationship.

It needs to be broadened to encompass the many aspects of patients' lives that affect the onset of disease and the outcome of treatment.

The medical profession currently favors the approach of training more physicians in primary care specialties—family practice, internal medicine, pediatrics, and obstetrics and gynecology.

It would appear, however, that pathbreaking changes in practice and reimbursement patterns are needed before physicians can be recruited and retained in general or primary care practice.

Therefore, considerable attention has been given to another approach: training new health practitioners, including various types of physician assistants and nurse practitioners, to deliver general medical care in collaboration with physicians.

Most visits to the doctor are by people with relatively uncomplicated conditions that could well be handled by someone with less training than physicians have.

The training of new health practitioners, which sometimes includes academic as well as practical training, qualifies the doctor to extend care to a physician, to perform functions that used to be handled only by physicians.

Physicians with medical examinations, treatment of minor illnesses, care for chronically ill patients, that could well be handled by someone with less training than physicians have.

The ability of these new health practitioners to provide routine medical services, including giving shots, to increase preventive care and patient counseling even to extend care to areas of the country that are shunned by physicians—has been demonstrated across the nation.

Acceptance of new health practitioners has been favorable. As more and more doctors graduate from medical schools each year, enrollments in the nation's medical schools have more than doubled in the last 20 years—doctors may become increasingly reluctant to share medical practice with new health practitioners.

The root of the problem lies in a conflict between the interests of health professionals, particularly physicians, and the needs of the public.

Whether the number of generalists is increased or the more personal, psychosocial facets of health care are delegated to new health practitioners, it is essential that in the health care system of the future, the personal needs of patients and families receive adequate attention.

Next: Daniel Callahan, an expert on medical ethics, discusses "The Right to Health Care."

Irene Butler, Ph.D., is a professor in the department of health planning and administration in the School of Public Health at the University of Michigan, where she first joined the faculty in 1962.

Q. I'm sure I'm not alone in admitting that I've never been able to construct an effective budget, let alone stick to one. However, if things continue to go as they are, I'm going to have to take a stab at it out of necessity. Whom can I go to for advice on budgeting?

A. Although sticking to a budget is a matter of purely personal willpower, a good source of advice and counseling in creating a budget is your bank. As a matter of fact, one of the things you should expect from your bank is professional and straight-forward counseling concerning money matters, whether it's creating your own personal budget, or information and advice concerning a new business venture. Professionalism, experience, knowledge, personal concern and willingness to help are all attributes you have a right to expect as a customer.

138 fatalities in Illinois

By TROOPER JAMES G. GALLO

Illinois State Police Common phrases often used by police in describing traffic accidents:

Driver fell asleep, vehicle ran off roadway and struck a tree, driver killed.

Driver lost control, ran off roadway, rolled over, driver killed.

Driver failed to negotiate curve, ran off roadway and struck a culvert, driver killed.

Driver hits slippery spot on roadway, loses control and strikes oncoming vehicle, driver killed, passenger injured.

All of these accidents have a common factor, "DRIVER." Most of these drivers could have prevented these accidents, none thought that it could happen to them.

During the month of January, 138 persons lost their lives on Illinois Highways due to traffic accidents. Which of these phrases will describe their accident: driver fell asleep, lost control, drinking, too fast for conditions, or excessive speed?

During the month of January, District 11 had a total of 10 traffic fatalities, one in Clinton County, six in Madison County and 3 in St. Clair County.

These statistics are getting closer to home. Don't let your driving or attitude lead you into a traffic accident. Drive 55 and stay alive — Speed still kills.

Honor Royal Rangers for year's activities

Royal Rangers, Outpost 73 of Tri-City Park Tabernacle, held its annual Royal Ranger of the Year presentation as a father and son get-together.

Highlighting the evening was the candlelight ceremony in which 16 Rangers were picked to light the four red, four gold and eight blue candles. The three colors symbolize the points of the star on the Royal Ranger emblem. Each boy recited what his point was and the meaning of it and then lit his candle.

With 29 fathers, two mothers and 57 boys present, they listened while Senior Commander Jerry Meyenburg opened the event with an opening prayer and explained the format of the Royal Ranger program under the flickering candles.

He stressed that the red and gold points of the emblem stand for the spiritual, mental, and physical growth of the boy into manhood, and the blue points signify the Ranger Code, which are the rules for the boys to direct their moral lives.

Commander Meyenburg then called each of his group commanders to present their Ranger of the Month Award to the hardest working boy in his group. Commander Jerry Meyenburg praised his leaders for their dedication and devotion to the program.

He then presented toolcraft patches and cards to 15 boys and leaders for successfully completing the toolcraft course.

He also presented advancement awards to five trailblazers, advancement pins to two pioneers, two strait arrows and 10 advancement certificates to boys who advanced a rank in January.

Last of the presentations was the Royal Ranger of the Year trophies for the boys who earned the most points on the special point system through the year of 1980.

The outstanding Rangers are: Strait Arrows — first place, Billy Kenzi; second place, Shannon Kent; third, Eric Wright.

Buckaroos — first, Todd Hutchison; second, Jason Markell; third, Billy Guede. Pioneers — first, Daryl Meyenburg; second, Alan Lenz; third, Tim Hutchison.

Trailblazers — first, Mark Barnfield; second, Mark Arnold; third, David Deshegia. Trail Ranger's first, Steve Naler.

Commander Meyenburg then closed with a brief talk on the annual child day fundraising project which will take place Feb. 21 in the church fellowship hall from 11 a.m. to 7 p.m. He urged the boys to sell more tickets for the sales contest and he urged the parents to assist them. The evening ended with refreshments and fellowship.

Mr. and Mrs. William Walker

Walker-Buente

Miss Suzan Renée Buente, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Buente, 3233 Princeton Drive, and William L. Walker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Metzger, 2200 Benton St., and the late Aubon Ray Walker, exchanged wedding vows in a candlelight ceremony on Jan. 10 at St. John United Church of Christ in Collinsville.

The Rev. Donald Sabbert officiated at the double ring service at 5:30 in the evening, before an altar decorated with bouquets of pink carnations and greenery.

Organist William Hart accompanied Jeanne Pieper as she sang, "Always" and "The Lord's Prayer."

Escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her father, the former Miss Buente chose a formal length white organza over taffeta gown fashioned with a silk floral Venice lace applique bodice and lace edging the Queen Anne neckline.

The lace trim was repeated on the cuffs of the long sheer bishop sleeves.

A lace camelot cap secured her fingertip veil of bridal illusion, edged with Venice lace, and she held a crescent style bouquet of pink carnations interspersed with baby's breath and tied with burgundy streamers.

Miss Cindy Buente, a sister of the bride, was maid of honor, and the bridesmaids included Mrs. Pam Brown, a cousin of the bride, and Miss Karen Doty.

They were attired in Daphne rose and burgundy tinaseta floor length dresses fashioned with a Venice lace trim on the draped bodices and repeated on the open necklines and three quarter length sleeves.

Each attendant held bouquets similar to the bride's arrangement.

The groom chose his twin brother, Wendell Walker, as best man, Larry Walker, another brother and Mark Whitehead were groomsmen.

Seating the guests were Larry Walker and Alan Schaeke, a cousin of the bride.

The groom's parents hosted a rehearsal dinner at Ravanelli's Restaurant.

Guests were received by the newlywed couple at a reception held at the Croatian Home in Madison, immediately following the ceremony.

Mrs. Wendell Walker attended the guest book and Judy Walker and Alicia Null distributed rice packets.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Buente selected a full length beige lace over taffeta gown designed with capelet sleeves and sunburst pleated skirt.

The groom's mother appeared in a floor length mint green chiffon gown featuring a fitted bodice and semi full skirt complemented with a taffon cape. Both mothers wore cymbidium orchid corsages.

Both young people graduated from South High School. The bride was a member of the Future Secretaries of America and was employed at Boatmen's Bank in St. Louis.

The groom is presently serving with the U.S. Air Force and is stationed in Del Rio, Texas, where they are making their home.

AT CAMP PENDLETON Marine Pfc. Donald R. Scott, son of Melvin L. Scott, and Virginia Bresnahan of 2409 Glen Place and 81 Kaseberg Park, respectively, has reported for duty with 7th Engineer Support Battalion, Camp Pendleton, Calif. He joined the Marine Corps in August 1980.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Robinson

Robinson-Bishop

The wedding of Miss Vicki L. Bishop and Russell Dean Robinson Jr., was solemnized on Nov. 8 at the Community Heights Assembly of God Church.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Walter E. Bishop, 3846 Lake Drive, and Mr. and Mrs. Gerald D. Starr, 3801 Lake Drive. The groom is the son of Russell Robinson Sr., 3521 Johnson Road and Mr. and Mrs. George Keith, 2701 Washington Ave.

The Rev. Ernest Hale officiated at a double ring ceremony at 7 o'clock in the evening.

Organist Kim Smith played "Color My World," "If," and "We've Only Just Begun," preceding the service.

For her wedding, the bride chose a full length white chiffon over taffeta gown fashioned with a Queen Anne neckline traced with Chantilly lace. The long sleeves were accented with lace motifs which were repeated on the fitted bodice and high rise waistline.

Her semi-full skirt, that fell into a chapel train, was encircled with a lace ruffle at the hemline.

She wore a Juliet cap of lace and seed pearls to secure a fingertip veil of bridal illusion, and she held a cascade bouquet of white carnations and baby's breath with a blue accent and tied with white satin ribbons.

Debbie Weber served a maid of honor with bridesmaids, Carol Weber, Barbara Bradshaw and Kimberly Davis, a niece of the bride.

They were dressed in pastel blue floor length dresses enhanced with royal blue velvet trim on the sleeves and collar.

MELT DOWN. Arnold Steele (right) and Dutch Hempel melt down worn-out keys used at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville at the University's art studio, the Wagner Complex. Steele, a visiting lecturer and Hempel a graduate art student, will use the 130 pounds of metal to do sculpture casting.

Arnold Steele, a visiting lecturer, and Dutch Hempel, a graduate art student from the University of Minnesota, reap the benefits of having 140 pounds of worn-out University keys melted down into a new set of keys.

Al Felchia, supervisor of key control at the University, said melting down the keys is the best way to safely dispose of them. "The old ones are still good keys. They open up the doors they are intended for," said Felchia.

"We can't throw them away," he explained. "This is the second year we've been doing this. Last year, over 320 pounds of keys were destroyed, with some of the first keys even issued at the beginning of the year when they had already melted down."

Felchia said whenever a key is turned into key control, it is destroyed. "It is not like you have a file of keys," said Felchia. "We don't have the place or the personnel to safely keep the keys."

"If one person loses a key on a line it reassigned or the

The keys were melted down in the art department's furnace and poured into ingots. Steele said the art department reclaimed about 130 pounds of metal from the keys. "You always lose a lot of slag metal with a melt down," explained Steele.

Steele and Hempel will use the metal to do sculpture casting. "We're real pleased we managed to get some free metal," said Steele. "And it's a good way to destroy the keys safely."

PEOPLE

Press-Record Photos
by Valerie Evenden

Lively music by the Madison Kitchen Band, above, delights residents at The Colonades, who celebrate Valentine's Day with a party. Anna Kavala and Milton Worthen, left, were crowned "King and Queen of Hearts" and reigned over the activities. Runners up in the "royal duo" contest were Mildred Corley and Harry Senden and Frances Steinman and Harrison Harvick. Before retiring, Mr. Worthen served more than 50 years on the Granite City Board of Park Commissioners.

In photo below, Mrs. Gertrude Sprinkle acknowledges a musical tribute on her 80th birthday. "I was born on Friday the 13th," she calls to well-wishers. Punch, soft drinks and decorated cupcakes were served to the 65 residents attending the event.

Decatur says he will not withdraw from mayor race

With last week's deadline for candidates to withdraw from the April city election ballot, Alderman Warren Decatur, candidate for mayor of Granite City, has proven his statement that he would not withdraw to be true.

He said that despite "persistent rumors that I intend to withdraw from the campaign for mayor, the legal date for withdrawal, Feb. 11, has passed and I am still in the race."

"Now the rumor is that I intend to withdraw 30 days before the election and give my support to Mayor Schuler. This simply is not true," Decatur pledged in a letter to the Press-Record Monday.

He added, "I am writing this letter to dispel any further rumors that I intend to withdraw from the campaign. Furthermore, I do not intend to give my support to either candidate at any point in this election. To do this would be a great disservice to individuals who have supported and worked for me."

Decatur also said, "Though I do not have 'big money' backing, I will run a good, clean campaign. I believe I can run this more effectively and efficiently than either of my opponents. I have dedicated many hours of service on a part-time basis as former fire and police commissioner, alderman of the Fourth Ward, chairman of the Crime Prevention Committee of the Chamber of Commerce, solicitation chair for the Granite City High School South sports complex, a member of the Chamber of Commerce, Tri-City Shrine Club and Rotary."

"Now that I am approaching retirement age, I am ready to dedicate my services full-time as your mayor," Decatur concluded.

Select 'best' varieties as fruit trees for home

By CHRIS DOLL, Area Garden Adviser
The planting and growing of tree fruits at home should involve more than randomly selecting a good-sounding variety from the nursery list. The "best" variety should be selected from your garden. The cost of purchasing the tree and the time and space requirements should also be considered.

Selection of the best variety for your garden may involve family taste preferences, fresh and culinary qualities of the fruit, dates of maturity, storage abilities, tolerance to insects, diseases and cold temperatures, and the size of the tree.

It is best if gardeners know the variety's fruit and growth characteristics. Without this knowledge, the glowing descriptions in catalogs and advertisements make selection difficult. An unbiased source of variety information is the University of Illinois Cooperative Extension Service. The Extension Service bases its recommendations on results of experimental tests conducted by the University of Illinois, reports from other state experiment stations and field observations by staff members.

There are many varieties worthy of planting, but the following list includes those with above-average fruit and tree characteristics. They are listed in the order of ripening so that a sequence of ripe fruit can be enjoyed throughout the season.

APPLES (from July 4 to October 15): Lodi, Earliblaze, Jersey Mac, Paulared, Prima, Ozark Gold, Jonathan, Red Delicious, Golden Delicious, Blushing Golden, and Winesap. There are "color" sports and "spur" sports of many of these. The "spur" sports may well be better adapted to the small size of a home garden. Dwarfed trees are recommended.

PEARS (from August 15 to September 5): Maxine or Starking Delicious, Moonglow, Magnese, and Seckel. These are the best of the varieties that have some resistance to the fireblight disease. Varieties such as Bartlett and Seckel cannot be surpassed for eating, but are very susceptible to diseases. Use dwarfed trees only.

PEACHES (from July 10 to August 15): Earliglo, Red Haven or Commanche, Raritan Rose, Jayhaven, Harmony, Madison, Blasco, Cresthaven, and Belle of Georgia (white). These give a succession of ripening of widely adapted varieties, but many others could be planted with success. For varieties that are most likely to endure extreme cold temperatures, try Surecrop, Prairie Dawn, Reliance, Madison, and Belle of Georgia.

PLUMS (July 5 to September 20): These usually grouped by varieties, because two or more varieties of a species are needed for cross pollination. Green Gage, Stanley, and Shropshire Damson are the best of the European or prune plums. Methley and Red Heart are Japanese types that may do well. Ozark, Premier, Superior, Embury, and Sager are hybrids that are well adapted.

APRICOTS (June 25 to July 4): Earli-Orange is the most reliable variety, but others such as Superb, Wilson Delicious, Goldcot, and some seedlings may perform well. Apricot trees grow to a large size, so give them plenty of room.

CHERRIES (June 10-25): Montmorency is the most popular of the red tart cherries. Meteor and Northstar can be planted where dwarf trees are wanted. Sweet cherries are less predictable than the red tart kind, but the varieties of Yellow Glass, Black Tartarian, Stella, Van, and Windsor can be planted. Two or more varieties of sweet cherries should be planted for cross pollination.

The objective of growing tree fruits at home should be fresh fruit of high quality or of special characters. The above list should provide ample choice, but should not eliminate any special favorite the gardener may have.

THEFT AT SKOTTY'S

Legislative interns sought

The Illinois Legislative Council and Sangamon State University have announced that applications are being accepted between now and March 1 for the Illinois Legislative Staff Internship Program.

The program, now in its 19th year, provides 18 outstanding students an opportunity to pursue graduate studies and research while observing and becoming actively involved with the operations of the Illinois General Assembly.

The internship combines academic study of the legislative process and policy analysis with active participation through assignments as analysts with one of the leadership staffs or the Illinois Legislative Council. Interns are subject to supervision by the legislative officer to whom they are assigned and by the coordinator of the internship program, an SSU faculty member.

Applicants must have completed work for a bachelor's degree before the starting date of the internship. They should have outstanding academic records during the junior and senior years or previous graduate or professional study.

Interns will be appointed for a 9½-month nonrenewable term that begins Oct. 1, 1981. A monthly fellowship stipend of $750 will be paid for the duration of the internship.

The deadline for applications is March 1, 1981. Appointments will be announced in April, 1981.

All applications are screened by a committee of academic members from the sponsoring committee, and a group of finalists is interviewed by representatives of the leadership staffs and the council. Final selection is made by the council upon their recommendations.

Funds for the program are appropriated by the General Assembly to the Illinois Legislative Council. The Council contracts with Sangamon State University to administer the program and provide a coordinator who also oversees the academic portion of the program.

Inquiries concerning the program should be directed to Dr. Kent Redfield, program coordinator, Illinois Legislative Staff Internship Program, Sangamon State University, Springfield, Ill. 62708.

Theft charged

Larry Lee Dunn, 20, of 1206 Grand Ave., Madison, and Bruce A. Snyder, 20, of 2825 Denver St., were charged with theft after an off-duty Granite City policeman alleged seeing them siphoning gasoline from a Schermer Brothers Grocery truck at 12th Street and Grand Avenue last week.

When Madison police arrived at the scene, the off-duty officer said two men had left the truck and carried a gasoline can to Dunn's nearby home.

A can containing three gallons of gasoline was found in the rear yard of that address and the two men inside were identified as the ones who allegedly stole the gasoline. They were released on notices to appear in court.

Delay of new Alton locks, dam costly to taxpayers

Guy E. Jester, a leading supporter of the Alton locks and dam project, said during the weekend that railroad fighting its construction consider their court battle a cheap way to delay the work and protect their shipping business.

It seems to us that if the opponents want to show that this is not their strategy—and that they are wholly sincere in their efforts—they can prove it by joining the proponents in seeking a quick resolution of the dispute, win or lose.

Especially in these inflationary times, surely no one, particularly taxpayers, will benefit from a long-term stalemate. The matter should be decided on its merits, and quickly.

"Railroad attorneys have told me this is cheap for them because, the longer they delay, the more money they make," Jester told the annual meeting of the Water Resources Congress, held in St. Louis.

The Water Resources Congress includes those interested in water problems, navigation, flood control, irrigation and water quality. Jester is vice-president of Alberici Construction Co. and president of the Association for the Improvement of the Mississippi River, the latter a group of industries, organizations and individuals seeking expeditious modernization of the Alton area river facilities.

He asserted that a coalition of 21 railroads and two environmental interest groups provides a "classic example of how to defeat a project. The no-growth, anti-water resource eco-freaks have used every tactic they know to divide and conquer and delay, delay, delay—hearings, court cases and appeals.

"Our country's energy independence hinges on improvement of the Mississippi River.

"While greater use of coal reserves requires increased water shipping, the existing Alton locks and dam are antiquated, pressed far beyond their designed capacity of 45 million tons of freight per year. In the last 12 months, more than 70 million tons of freight were forced through this bottleneck.

Earlier last week, Robert Larkins, manager of Exxon's synthetic fuel program, said, "The United States has enough oil shale and coal reserves to become independent of foreign oil, but unprecedented government cooperation would be needed if we are to achieve independence.

"Because two to four barrels of water will be required to produce each barrel of synthetic fuel, it will be necessary to transport, via pipeline, water to Western regions, primarily Colorado, where the largest shale reserves are located. This will require cooperation between all levels of government to a degree unprecedented in our peacetime history.

"Shale and coal reserves could sustain a 15 million barrels a day synthetic fuel industry for 175 years. The U.S. currently imports about six million barrels of oil a day."

Larkins concluded that the federal government is giving primary attention to their own, rather than the public's, wishes. Every American could be richer, in both dollars and energy.

From almost any standpoint, it is apparent that the advocates of delay—whether they be commissioners or railroad attorneys—are giving primary attention to their own, rather than the public's, wishes. Every American could be richer, in both dollars and energy.

It proves you have to keep on top of these things. Opponents of growth on the waterways have taken control of the task forces and work groups on the commission.

It may never become fully clear what kinds of behind-the-scenes intrigue are involved. But by certain signs, a second lock is added to the replacement project, slowing time by the River Basin Commission in its study of the project could cause costly waste and duplication of effort. Duplication can be avoided if the commission performs its assigned tasks by the present deadline.

Sub-minimum would harm many

To the Editor:

It is with interest I have noted that Senator Percy has submitted legislation to create a special "sub-minimum wage. He says "the hopes" it will combat unemployment in the ranks of young people.

Under his bill, as I understand it, youths 16 to 19 would receive 85 percent of the now $3.35 minimum hourly rate.

I submit that many of the minimum wage workers are in the 20-45 age group, and that teenagers account for less than half of the workers paid the minimum wage.

These people in the 20-45 age group are, in many instances, family supporters. Should these people be replaced by "cheaper teenagers," the results could very well be a further swelling of the welfare rolls involving payment of aid to families with dependent children, food stamps, Medicaid, etc. Also, these same people would not then be on the tax rolls.

It is obvious many employers would be more than willing to lay off these teenagers when they are due for an increase to full minimum wage rate, and replace them with new teenagers.

A wage should be based on the job, not the age, sex or color of the worker.

Under the youth sub-minimum would set a precedent for future discrimination based on these conditions, affecting workers hurt by economic conditions.

The "present minimum wage law already provides for payment of less than the minimum wage for seven categories of workers, including full-time students, handicapped workers and student learners.

A large portion of the full-time students are employed in retail stores and restaurants.

The restaurant industry is, most probably, the largest employer of teenagers in the nation. For the fast food franchises, the savings could be enormous. From the looks of Naperville Road and Naperville shopping centers, they appear to be doing quite well.

Young people going to school—working night turns over hot grills, and putting up with sometimes disgruntled customers—deserve better than to have their wages cut.

They should not be made a scapegoat for a sluggish economy.

As a member of the Legislative Committee of Local 16, United Steelworkers of America, I am opposed to a sub-minimum wage. It would wreck the principle of a decent minimum wage for all workers.

Eliminate school tax on senior citizens

To the Editor:

I write this article so that by chance there may be "one" or "many" elected officials in our city state and federal government that would look into possibility of eliminating the real estate school tax on our retired parents living on secure security.

These forgotten human beings have paid dearly all their lives rearing their children, and now they are the young generations to acquire a good education in this great country of ours.

It's time for us to act in this manner to help those who have paved the roads for us all. The retired senior citizen on fixed incomes (and their children are grown) who have paid their dues to our educational system should be relieved from paying this unjust tax imposed upon them.

What do you think elected officials?

Its election time again

Once again its campaign time for our city officials. And as in the past it's dirty tricks time. I am a resident of the 6th Ward, and I am a candidate for city council.

I am already this happening. I drove around my district and the destruction is being done to only one candidate's signs. This is Woodrow (Woody) Moad, the Democratic candidate. I wonder, when I see more than one sign, and Mr. Moad's is the only one damaged, I hope there is no candidate for any city office, who would be responsible for such childlessness. If this is a taste of what lies ahead, Heaven help us.

I already have heard of money changing hands, favors being given or promised. If this is going on, I hope the city council might work this time, but someday it won't. Then what will you, the voters do?

We are the hostages returned. I felt so very proud of our country. I hope I can be proud of our city after this election.

One more thing, please do not blame misdeeds on our young people—they only do as adults teach them.

A RESIDENT

Candidate favors new approaches

To the Editor:

As you are all aware, this election is very important to every resident in Granite City. I, like all of the other candidates, would like to win.

I would welcome the opportunity and responsibility to serve my community—working and cooperating closely with others dedicated to accomplishing a better community.

I've lived in Granite City all of my life, except for the last 10 years. I lived in Springfield and Chokio. I reside at 3228 Carlson Ave. and I have two children.

While attending college in Champaign, studying to be a veterinarian technician. Michael is a senior at GCHS South and going to become a carpenter apprentice upon graduation.

I am employed by Peconic Guyton, Albert & Viets, Inc., an architectural firm in St. Louis where I am an administrative assistant-executive secretary.

I am a precinct committeeman in Precinct 20 and I am also secretary of the Granite City Democratic Club.

Probably most of you in the Fourth Ward will recognize me as one of the Gibson kids from Myrtle Avenue, and a lot of you I

THROUGH THE FILES

Staid business and professional women, at their monthly dinner meeting Tuesday evening at the White Star Restaurant, were stripped of their dignity and were told what simple, loving traits of character were revealed beneath their cool composure. Miss M. Brim of St. Louis, the character analyst whose statements so closely confirmed to the individual as judged by the members, said of her work, "There are no tricks or illusions to my 'line' and I'll tell you just how I do it because it's so very simple. It's merely a matter of coloring and contour of features, that's all."

Having taken the members into her confidence she wandered about the room glancing at her subject and immediately stating the outstanding features of that individual. She asked that all hats be removed. Miss Brim was not familiar with the members, yet was able to reveal what course of work they followed.

Eight candidates for city offices, six of them incumbents, filed for the general election a few minutes after midnight last night in the office of City Clerk Bigg at the city hall. All candidates filed on a Granite City Independent Party ticket.

Until 5 o'clock yesterday evening, the ticket had no head. At that time, Walter McNary, member of the Board of Police and Fire Commissioners, took his stand in front of the clerk's office with petition for Mayor M. E. Kirkpatrick in pocket. Securing a chair, he remained there seven hours until City Clerk Bigg arrived and opened his office at 12:01 to receive filings. McNary was the first in line and filed for Mayor Kirkpatrick on the Independent Party ticket.

Although there are yet no races for any city offices, Orville Hodge announced to the Press-Record this morning that he will be a candidate for mayor.

Construction of 50 dwelling units for officers and enlisted men and their families is scheduled to begin in two weeks at the Granite City Engineer Depot, and with related work will cost $931,667. It was announced over the weekend from the Corps of Engineers office in Chicago.

The contract for the housing project, which is to be completed by June 20, 1957, was awarded to G.H. Sternberg & Co., and calls for roadways, parking areas, storage buildings, drainage and site improvement in addition to the 15 brick and combination brick and frame dwelling structures.

Resurfacing of Broadway between Fourth street and the railroad viaduct which state funds was discussed favorably Friday night by the Venice city council which brought out all parking on the north side of the street and banning parking from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. on the south side.

Mayor Frank R. Reideberger Sr. asked City Comptroller Carl E. Byrnes to contact residents of the north side to determine their reaction to the plan. It was brought out that many of them already have driveways, and that the others would have an opportunity to specify entrances.

Appointment of Miss Hetty Sheppard, Granite City union official, as the first woman to serve on the city's Board of Police and Fire Commissioners, was confirmed by city council members in regular meeting Monday night. (Mayor Donald Partney pointed out that Miss Sheppard is the first woman named to serve on the police and fire board during the 75-year history of Granite City. Miss Sheppard is secretary-treasurer of the Retail Store Employees Union, Local 435.

The need for repair and replacement of defective sewers in the Nameoki sewer system is the most pressing problem confronting Granite City and should be met immediately by plans for an extensive maintenance program, Mayor Donald Partney told the city council in a detailed report Monday night.

The mayor said Granite City has spent a total of $2,496,863 in repairing sewers of the Nameoki system since it was built in 1954. This is $1,124,331 more than the cost of installing the sewers.

Fiscal restraint is still the key

To the Editor:

The inflationary deterioration of the U.S. economy in the past 10 years leaves us with two tasks for the next decade—eliminating inflation and restoring productive vigor to the American industrial system.

These two tasks are, of course, interrelated. Inflation has been a cause of the loss of productive vigor, and recovery of productive vigor can contribute to curbing inflation.

Recognition of the interrelationship, however, still leaves a question: On which side of this two-sided problem shall we concentrate our attack?

Should we try to cure inflation by reinvestigating the economy, or to reinvestigate the economy by curing inflation?

The task of eliminating inflation, when you look at what is involved, has a depressing, downbeat, negative quality to it. It is bound to be a slow and painful process.

It involves not so much a creative effort to find new economic initiatives, as a strong determination to curb the possibilities of things which were hailed as creative discoveries a generation ago—uninflationary fiscal policy, for example.

By contrast, the reinvestigation of our productive capabilities is an effort we can undertake in a hopeful, upbeat, positive frame of mind.

No wonder there is a widespread eagerness to embark directly on the reinvestigation task and leave the counter-inflation task in the background.

Inflation is the result of a gap between demand and supply. It is the result of a gap between demand and supply.

It is the result of a gap between demand and supply. It is the result of a gap between demand and supply.

It is the result of a gap between demand and supply. It is the result of a gap between demand and supply.

It is the result of a gap between demand and supply. It is the result of a gap between demand and supply.

It is the result of a gap between demand and supply. It is the result of a gap between demand and supply.

It is the result of a gap between demand and supply. It is the result of a gap between demand and supply.

It is the result of a gap between demand and supply. It is the result of a gap between demand and supply.

It is the result of a gap between demand and supply. It is the result of a gap between demand and supply.

It is the result of a gap between demand and supply. It is the result of a gap between demand and supply.

supply. In principle at least, increasing supply is as effective against inflation as holding down demand. Why not emphasize the positive rather than the negative approach?

Unfortunately, in the face of the conservative attitude appears to be largely a form of self-delusion.

Even a casual look at the recent statistical record reveals that, by far, the greater part of the anti-inflation effort has taken the form of holding down demand. And only a small part of it can be contributed by programs for increasing supply.

Briefly, demand—measured in terms of the number of dollars spent on goods and services—increased at an annual rate of 10 percent between 1973 and 1979 (both peak years).

Supply—measured in terms of the physical quantity of goods and services produced—increased over the same period at 2 1/2 percent per year. The 8 percent gap between demand and supply growth is the annual inflation rate for the same interval.

As a matter of fact, the possibility of the inflationary gap can be closed either by cutting the rate of demand growth from 10 1/2 percent to 7 1/2 percent, or by raising the rate of supply increase from 2 1/2 percent to 10 1/2 percent.

The first approach—cutting the rate of demand growth to match the current rate of supply expansion—is economically feasible.

A sufficient radical shift toward restraint in fiscal and monetary policy can curb demand to almost any desired degree. The obvious disadvantage to this approach is that it involves some unpleasant interim side effects (unemployment and slow growth) and hence is politically unpopular.

The alternative of increasing supply to meet current rates of demand growth is much more attractive politically.

Unfortunately, it is much less feasible economically. Even if, by some unimaginable productivity miracle, we were to double the rate of supply growth from 2 1/2 percent to 5 percent, we would have less than one-third of the 8 percent gap between supply and demand growth.

Unless the American economy is to go down the drain, we must assume that someday, somehow, inflation will be overcome. At that time, the rate of growth in demand will be the same as the rate of growth rate at that time will be somewhere between the 2 1/2 percent rate of growth in supply and the 10 1/2 percent growth in demand.

But it is almost as safe to predict that the growth rate we will achieve will be much less than the 10 1/2 percent. This means that realistic efforts to end inflation must concentrate on curbing demand and that we can rely only to a minor degree on measures to raise supply capability.

Well, perhaps that "minor degree" offers a small ray of hope. Shouldn't we pursue these measures to improve our ability to produce, in order to gain what we can from them in the battle against inflation, even while we recognize the need for demand restraint?

The answer has to be yes, we should pursue such measures wholeheartedly. But we must never regard them as adequate substitutes for the more painful, but equally important, measures for curbing demand expansion.

Fighting inflation in the old-fashioned way—fiscal and monetary restraint—is a necessary part of any program for rehabilitating the economy.

We got miserable meals from the economic-policy chefs in the last 10 years. It is great fun to write the menus for a better diet in the 1980s. But the first essential is the more grubby task of cleaning up the mess left behind in the kitchen.

Wants rate commission elected

To the Editor:

Tired of high utility bills? Tired of reading that the Illinois Commerce Commission just voted to grant another rate hike?

Tired of not knowing when the next rate hearing will be held? A solution to these problems could be near at hand.

Possible legislation is pending in the Illinois

General Assembly where the members of Illinois Commerce Commission would be elected by the public rather than appointed.

This would make the ICC members more responsive to the needs of the general public.

Instead of ignoring the complaints of the consumers and lending a sympathetic ear to the utilities, members would be held more accountable to the consumer. Grap a pen and write a letter. Pick up the phone and make a call to your Illinois state representative asking for his support in passing this legislation. Beers your pocketbook could depend upon it.

VENICE — It took a while to finally put it back together. Three weeks to be exact. It was the last time the Venice Red Devils had a complete basketball team. The dry spell ended against Vashon of St. Louis here Tuesday.

But Venice needed more time for readjustment and let another game it should have had, get away. The Red Devils lost 59-52.

Compared with the last time these two teams met, the game could have been considered kind of slow. Vashon won 95-85. "It was a run and gun type of game the last time we played Vashon," said Venice head coach Ken Perkins. "But, I'm not that type of coach and they (Venice) thought they could do it this time. They just couldn't handle it."

And it has been the same routine according to Perkins. When the game got down to the important third and fourth quarters, Venice couldn't take care of the pressure. "They (Red Devils) have to learn to deal with their own heads," said Perkins. "We made some big mental mistakes. I mean, you don't shoot 30 footers when you're down by two points late in the game. The team has to come before yourself."

GRANITE CITY — The Granite City South wrestling team is ready. It's on a roll.

The South Warriors have made good preparation for the upcoming Sectional Tournament at the South gymnasium, which will start at 7 p.m. Friday. Action will continue on noon Saturday with the semi-finals and consolation rounds. The finals and third place bouts are set for 7 p.m. that night. With nine qualifiers from the Wood River District (where South won its 24th straight title), South is the likely choice to come away with the 43rd tournament championship.

COLLINSVILLE — Behind the one-two punch of Chris Boyd and Nita Graham, the Granite City South girls basketball team broke open a close game in the second half and went on to defeat Belleville East 64-51 in the semifinals of the Collinsville Invitational Tournament here Tuesday night.

The victory means that South will face Collinsville, 38-52 winner over Mascoutah in the other semifinal, tonight at 8 for the tournament championship. The game will be played at the Greenwood (new) campus. Tuesday's game was evenly divided between the two South stars the first half belonged to Boyd and the second half was Graham's. Boyd drove the baseline with ease most of the first half and scored 16 of her 25 points in the period. In the second half, East outplayed its defense on Boyd, leaving Graham open to hammer the Lakers from the outside. She scored 12 of her 22 points in the second half, including the basket that put South ahead to stay. "She's as good an outside shooter as anybody in the area," said South coach Gary Morgan. "Last year, we had trouble getting her to shoot the ball. But when she does, well you saw what happened."

South, ranked third in the Press-Record Girls Basketball Poll, had some troubles with East, which is ranked fourth in the same poll, especially in the first half. After trading baskets the first three trips down the floor, East took charge. First came a driving layup by Laurie Schutzenhofer. Then two straight baseline shots from Janet Tipton. Boom! It was 12-0.

"We tried something different and it didn't work," said Morgan. "We knew East was quick (South) downed the Lakers in the first game of the season). So we tried to put some extra pressure on them. But they're so darned quick, they beat us down the floor and got behind us for easy ones. They're tall and can move the ball down the court in a could operate." What happened was that Boyd took the situation back into her own hands. The last four came after East had opened up a 16-10 lead. That made it 16-14. Graham's 25 footer tied the score with 50 seconds left. Another bomb by Graham fell short at the buzzer and South trailed 18-16.

The score was nip and tuck early in the second quarter until Graham swished a 30 footer with 2:30 left. It gave South the lead to stay, 28-26. "People say we're a one-player team," said Morgan referring to Boyd. "But we're not."

"Without Boyd we're a good team. With her, we're above average." In the second half, South never led by more than seven points until late in the game. "East's a good team," said Morgan. "We knew that coming in. They're tall and can move the ball down the court in a hurry." "I tell the girls that physically we can go with anybody," said Morgan. "But we have to come to play."

NOTES—Thursday's South-Collinsville game will be the first meeting between the two this season. Collinsville is ranked seventh in the Press-Record Girls' Basketball Poll. The Lady Kahoks got off to a horrendous start in this season at 2-6. They're now 11-7. Their lone loss during their comeback was a one-point loss to Triad. South beat Triad in overtime by one two weeks ago.

Bad call kills Steamers

Special to the Press-Record

CLEVELAND — Thanks to a "non-goal," the Cleveland Force was able to hold off the St. Louis Steamers here last night and notch a 6-5 victory.

The controversial play came in the fourth period after the Steamers fought from a 4-0 deficit to tie the score. Cleveland's Simon Look fired a shot off his left foot into the goal. The rebounded back onto the turf. But to all behold, the red light above the goal went on, signifying a Cleveland goal. The one goal turned out to be the winning margin.

Instant replays shown on large screens inside the Richfield Coliseum showed clearly time and again that the shot was not a goal. Everyone except two people interviewed said it was not a goal. Those two were the goal judge (who turned the light on) and Look himself. "It was probably the worst foul I've ever seen," said former Steamer Tony Graham, said, "I really don't think it was a goal."

After the red light went on, the Steamers hotly protested. Steamer head coach Pat McBride ran out onto the floor to the goal judge's booth demanding an explanation. But the call stood and the Steamers lost their 11th game of the season against 23 wins. Their lead over second place Cleveland in the Major Indoor Soccer League's Central Division shrank to four games. Cleveland upped its record to 19-14.

Cleveland had taken a 3-0 lead in the first quarter on two goals by Prosper Cohen and one by Ian Anderson. That was the halftime score. In the third period, Look scored to make it 4-0. Then the Steamers started their comeback. Emilio John scored. Then Don Ebert. Emilio Romero scored a short-handed goal at the 10-12 mark of the third period making it 4-3.

Newcomer Steve Sullivan scored off an assist from Romero at the 3:11 mark of the fourth quarter to tie the score at four. Then came Look's disputed goal. He scored an unassisted goal later making it 6-4. Sammy Bick scored the Steamers' last goal.

Cleveland outshot St. Louis 56-47. Steamer goalie Sloba Ilijevski made 18 saves, while Marnie Cano made 14 for the Force. Attendance was 2,864.

Bearcats bomb SIU-E

EDWARDSVILLE — The McKendree College football team, a former All-Big Ten honorable mention from the University of Illinois fired one in from 20 feet. That made the score 49-24.

The Cougars managed the trim lead to ten points at 42-32 with 25 seconds remaining in the half when Henry Felton scored on a layup. But Elfrink made an inside shot with only three seconds remaining in the period to make the halftime score 44-32.

The Bearcats scored the first three times they had the ball in the second half — and that extended their lead to 50-32.

Late in the half, McKendree started making it look easy. With the Cougars missing shots and the Bearcats making about everything they put in, it was over long before the final buzzer.

Haverman and Elfrink provided enough points between them to do the Cougars in. Elfrink was good for 21 points, while Haverman scored 22. Jankowski, who transferred to McKendree this season from Tennessee-Chattanooga, scored 15. Lanter scored 14 and Rick Klinehofer had 12.

Red Smith once again paced the Cougars, this time with 21 points. Scott Kabbes, former Effingham St. Anthony All-Stater, scored 16. SIU-E's 7-2 center Joe Pickowitz and Felton each scored 10 points. Randall Jones, a graduate of Madison High, scored eight points.

McKendree made 41 of 74 attempts from the floor for 45 percent. SIU-E made 30 of 84 for an icy cold 35 percent. The Cougars outrebounded the Bearcats 51-42.

Lady Trojans win

MADISON — The last time the Madison girls basketball team played O'Fallon Tech of St. Louis, the game started early, the Trojans didn't get any warmup, they had a starter out and they lost.

Madison was given a second chance to correct its mishaps here Wednesday. Leading by as much as 14 points during the game, the Trojans held off a late charge by Tech and won 50-48. It improved their record to 7-2.

It looked like the shoe was going to be on the other foot. O'Fallon arrived for the contest in plenty of time and were even dressed in uniform. But, its pre-game talk took too long and Tech was slapped for a technical foul to start the game. The Trojans promptly hit the free throw and the momentum was decided.

"I think playing the game at home made a little difference," said Madison head coach Carol Stearns. "We had a chance to play in this game and I think it was well called."

The Trojans gladly accepted the early lead and tried to prove to O'Fallon the first contest was only a fluke. Ruth Jacks sparked the offense with a 17 point performance that helped the Trojans build a 10 point lead at the half. "Ruth (Jacks) has been carrying the load ever since Nancy (Mikolaszuk) got sick," said Stearns.

Fighting for a respectable return to the scoring ranks, Mikolaszuk gave it her all, but the timing was just not there yet. She still managed to hit double figures with 10.

Madison should have been glad it got ample practice on offense in the first half. It was a foreign part of its game in the second 16 minutes of the contest. "We played almost the entire second half on defense," said Stearns. "Every time we brought the ball down, we threw it away. They (O'Fallon) were running fast breaks all game like that. They were silly mistakes, too."

CHRIS BOYD of Granite City South (right) looks for someone to pass off to Tuesday night while being guarded by Belleville East's Michelle Douglas. South won the game and advanced to tonight's tournament championship game against Collinsville.

Silly or not, the mistakes still added up to 37 turnovers for Madison for the game. O'Fallon jumped all over the chance to get back in it. "Nobody should win a game with that many turnovers," said Stearns. "It was a good thing we had a big lead at half-time. It was the only thing that saved us. We just proceeded to blow the lead." O'Fallon nearly double its offensive output of the first in the third quarter alone. Tech wasn't about to give up without a fight. "They (Madison) didn't play well," said Stearns. "It was that plain and simple. I hope they got that out of their system." The Trojans may have been through, but Tech still had something left. Although its comeback attempt fell short, O'Fallon did go out with a bang. A quick bucket and a time-out caught the final buzzer before it went off. Tech was still kicking.

North girls to face Redwings

COLLINSVILLE — The Granite City North Lady Stealers lost their first two games in the Collinsville Tournament here Monday and Tuesday.

Collinsville may be giving coach Foz Ryan a few more grey hairs with their hot and cold performances on the basketball court. The Kahoks killed off the final three minutes of the game against Mascoutah and walk away with a 38-33 victory in the semifinals of the tournament.

The win puts Collinsville in finals against powerful Granite City South, rated third in this week's Press-Record — Collinsville Herald Coaches' Poll. That game is at 8 p.m. at Fletcher Gymnasium.

Tuesday's win over Mascoutah came at the heels of a hot day for the Kahoks Monday night. Collinsville wiped out North at the Vandalia campus 77-25. "I don't know. We have trouble with that man to man defense," Ryan said following the win over Mascoutah. "It hurts us. It slows our offense down. We play with a deliberate offense anyway. I had hopes for more speed, more movement."

Both defenses were so good in fact, neither team could get on the scoreboard. Not until more than four minutes into the first quarter did Collinsville's Ann Price break the 0-0 deadlock with an inside move and bucket. Once the ice was broken, Price scored six consecutive points to give Collinsville a 6-0 lead. She led the Kahoks in scoring with 12 points.

With 55 seconds remaining in the quarter, the Indians' Liz Meyer hit the second free throw of a two shot foul for Mascoutah's only point of the first quarter. Shooting percentages weren't all that bad for either team. The Kahoks were 14 of 31 (45 percent) from the field. Mascoutah was 11 of 29 (38 percent). But many of those shots were forced from the inside.

Both teams seemed to have trouble holding onto the ball. That is, of course, until the final three minutes of the game. With a 36-31 lead, Collinsville decided to stall movement. The Indians had given Collinsville trouble the first time the two teams met in the Mascoutah tournament. The Kahoks won that game too, but the man-to-man defense was haunting them the entire game. "I thought we handled their press alright," Ryan said. "And our defense was excellent. Of course, it's been good of late. We're holding leads to 35 or 36 points a game."

The win upped Collinsville's record to 11-7. Following a dismal 2-6 start, the Kahoks have won nine of their last 10 games. Defense has carried them through most of those games. Monday night, however, offense was the rule against North's Stealers.

Price hit for 10 points in the first quarter against North. She had 18 points in the first half. Janet Frandorf, the Kahoks' 6-0 junior center, hit seven of eight free throws in the first quarter as Collinsville held a large early lead.

Price ended up with 20 points and Frandorf 12 points. Karen Hollerbach kept the attack balanced with 12 points from the outside. Susan Pitol and Jackie Baum added eight points each.

Ryan knows Granite South is no easy Thursday night. "They're a good shooting team," he said of the Warriors. "But they're going to find we're going to be strong inside on them. We're not backing down."

Pontoon Beach Lions endorse Patrick for district post

A resolution initiating and endorsing the campaign of Donald D. Patrick as lieutenant-governor of district 1-6 of the Lions was approved by the Pontoon Beach Lions club in a meeting last week.

The resolution was introduced by Immediate Past President George H. Goodwin and given a second by Director Jerry W. Henderson, past president.

Lion Patrick is a charter member of the club and a past president. In April 1976 he was elected president of the club by the three remaining active members. The club was in danger of having its charter recalled by Lions International and he was asked to lead it toward being a productive, active force in the community.

The club was also in debt to the District and International for two years in delinquent membership dues. In addition, it was in debt for $10,000 for a section of land. At that time the club was not submitting monthly M & A Reports, nor was it meeting regularly or carrying on normal Lion Activities.

During Lion Patrick's year as president, he sponsored 11 new members, established a weekly game fund-raising activity, organized regular bi-monthly membership meetings, and created a functioning board of directors. With the success of the weekly fund raiser, the club was able to make good on all its past debts. It is currently in strong financial condition.

While president, Patrick established numerous annual activities. These include, an annual Christmas "Give-A-Can Drive," a Community Awards and Installation Dinner, which yearly presents the "Pontoon Beach Citizen of the Year Award," "Citizens Medal of Valor Award" and the "Lion of the Year Award." He also set a goal for the club to purchase a building to be known as the Lions Club of Pontoon Beach

Community Service Center. That goal still stands today, being supported by four following presidents and boards of directors.

While president, he appointed a Lions Club investigating committee which reported on the feasibility of sponsoring such a club. The following year the first Lions Club in District 1-6, the Lions Club of Pontoon Beach, was established.

Patrick has held the offices of director, treasurer, secretary, vice-president, immediate past president and is currently the club's first executive secretary-treasurer.

He has also served his club as chairman of the constitution and by-laws committee, human and social services committee, eye donor registry committee, convention committee and program committee. In addition, he has been a member of the finance committee, membership and attendance committee, and bingo committee. New dental unit at St. Mary's St. Mary's Hospital, 129 N. 8th St., East St. Louis, in conjunction with Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, opened a new dental unit on the first floor, north wing, Feb. 13. There are only five other units of this type in the 57 hospitals in the metropolitan area.

Initially, the unit will be made available to various departments in the hospital, and private physicians, for in-patient consultation. The new facilities will also be made available to special needs groups, such as handicapped patients. If those screened and counseled need only routine dental care, they will be referred to a private dentist or to the clinic in the SIU building in East St. Louis.

Four general practice residents from SIUE will be rotating as staff, along with members of the hospital dental staff. These residents are part of a one-year program for graduate dentists establishing expertise in hospital dentistry.

Take applications for young diabetics camp

Application forms are now being accepted for Camp EDI, the St. Louis summer camp for children with diabetes sponsored by the American Diabetes Association, Greater St. Louis Affiliate.

The camp session will be held from July 25 to Aug. 8, at Forest Lodge, the YM-CA's facility on Sunnen Lake, near Potosi, Mo. Age limits for children attending the camp are 8½ to 14 years.

In addition there will be a special mini-camp session from July 26 to July 30 for children 7½ to 8½ years of age.

EDI is an acronym for Exercise, Diet and Insulin, the three key elements in managing (juvenile onset) diabetes. In addition to medical and dietary instructions, a full camping program is offered including such activities as swimming, boating, fishing and archery. Camp EDI is approved by the American Camping Association.

This will be the 28th annual session of the camp which is attended each summer by about 100 children. Application forms and a camp brochure are available by calling 968-3196. Children who have never before attended the camp will be given first consideration for enrollment, provided their applications are received before March 15.

Funds from the Association's Bike-A-Thon held each May help finance the camp, and full and partial campships are also available.

The American Diabetes Association, Greater St. Louis Affiliate, Inc. is a United Way Agency.

New bids on SUE multi-purpose building to be opened April 2

New bids on the proposed multi-purpose building at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville are scheduled to be opened by the Capital Development Board in Springfield on April 2, according to an announcement by the CDB this week.

University officials said plans and specifications for the building were revised by the project architect, William Thompson and Associates, after the initial bid received Dec. 19 totaled nearly $2.5 million over the available project construction budget of approximately $10 million.

James R. Buck, director of development and public affairs, said the university's large-scale building program resulted in a number of structural and design modifications which are expected to reduce costs enough to meet the project budget. He said the modifications proposed do not reduce or eliminate the major program goals for the building.

Revisions include a reduction in the size of the lobby; removal of the underground parking and swimming pool; changes in some of the decorative exterior walls, eliminating the use of stone and other alterations in construction. Dr. Buck said the University has been assured that the end use, strength and safety features of the structure have been maintained and the assigned area for activities preserved.

Construction of the building is expected to require approximately 18 weeks and ground breaking ceremonies are scheduled for April 2.

could be as early as mid-April. The multi-purpose building will have more than 100,000 square feet of usable space, including classrooms, laboratory, faculty offices, multi-purpose gymnasium, studios, specialized recreation facilities, training rooms, locker rooms and swimming pool.

Instructional, recreational and competitive events and activities will include basketball, tennis, gymnastics, jogging, volleyball, badminton, wrestling, handball, racquetball, tennis, weight training and swimming.

Movable spectator seating will be provided for 5,000 in the facility. Approximately two hundred fixed seats will be located in the swimming pool area. In addition, the facility was designed to meet the necessary acoustical and lighting requirements to be used for the governor in shows, concerts, dances, and other special events.

Gov. James Thompson announced on Dec. 3 that he had authorized the Bureau of the Budget to release construction funds for the project which has been under consideration in various forms and phases for more than 14 years. The University, whose Edwardsville campus was opened in 1965, is the only major state institution of higher learning in Illinois without a permanent physical education-recreation facility of any kind.

The current project was launched in 1977 when Governor Thompson signed a bill sponsored by State Senator Sam Vadala (D-Edwardsville), providing the first planning money—$300,000—for the facility. On July 17, 1978, the governor came to the SUE campus to sign SB 1506, also sponsored by Senator Vadala, appropriating another $641,000 to complete planning on the project. The first planning funds were released by the governor in March, 1979.

Design proposals for the facility were presented to the University community for consideration in July, 1979.

On July 31, 1980, Governor Thompson again came to the campus to announce his intention to sign Senator Vadala's bill which appropriated $10 million in construction funds for the project. An additional $1 million in Student Welfare and Recreation funds were designated for the building.

Caudill Rowlett Scott Associate Architects of Houston, Tex., collaborated with Thompson Associates on the design of the facility. The site, east of the existing Bubble Gym was recommended by the SUE Planning Committee and was approved after open discussions and hearings with the architects and the University community. The site will provide approximately 2 acres adjacent to the building for play fields and parking facilities. Existing parking lots behind the Communications, Science and Library buildings also will be immediately available at the site.

Disability benefits for persons unable to work

Workers in this area suffering from a physical or mental impairment which prevents them from working should consider applying for social security disability benefits when it appears this condition will last 12 months or more, Oliver Holmes, Social Security district manager in East St. Louis, says.

Social Security disability benefits can be paid to workers under 65, disabled widows and widowers 50 or older, and two unmarried adults disabled before reaching 22.

Under Social Security, a person is considered disabled if he or she has a condition which prevents him or her from doing any substantial gainful work and is expected to last for at least 12 months or to result in death.

No payments can be made to a disabled worker, widow, or widower for the first five months of disability. Before a person applies for disability benefits, it will be helpful if he or she gathers certain information. This will help speed up the application process, Holmes said. This includes:

Security number.

—Date last worked.

—Type of illness or injury.

—Date returned to work, or no longer disabled.

—Names, addresses, and telephone numbers of doctors, hospitals, institutions, or clinics that provided treatment for the disability and dates of treatment.

—Military service serial number and VA claim number if available.

—List of kinds of jobs performed in previous 10 years.

—Names, Social Security numbers, and dates of birth of spouse and children.

—Workers' compensation number if any.

"A person should not delay applying if all this information is not available. The people at the East St. Louis Social Security office may be able to help," Holmes said.

"They can give more information about disability benefits. The office is located at 650 Missouri Avenue and the telephone number is 274-4100 or toll free Enterprise 1-555."

Since there were no known survivors at the time of the service, members of the Disabled American Veterans, Chapter 53 of Granite City, served as pallbearers.

Mr. Majors was a military veteran and a member of the local DAV Chapter. Burial was in National Cemetery, Jefferson Barracks, Mo.

Symptoms of the common cold

By MARY RICHARDS

Illinois Department of Public Health

"Gesundheit!" "God Bless

You." I guess you've been hearing those words a lot lately. Winter chills are in the air, and so are the sneezes, coughs and runny noses.

Yet, as "common" as the common cold is, there is still no specific treatment for it.

There are many viruses that cause a cold, and although research is being conducted to try to find vaccines effective against some of these viruses, it will probably be many years before any breakthroughs are

Americans average three colds a year per person.

Although we spend an enormous amount of money on over-the-counter cough and cold remedies, the old saying—"A cold lasts a week if it is treated, and seven days if you let it run its course"—is still very much true.

Cold symptoms generally begin one to three days after the virus gets into your body.

The six symptoms usually associated with a cold are:

sneezing, runny nose, watery eyes, aches and pains, nasal congestion and coughing.

The symptoms frequently occur in that order, but not always.

Although you cannot be immunized against the

Department of Public Health says there are some things you can do that might help prevent colds, and that will help you avoid complications

when colds do occur.

First, keep up your natural resistance through a nutritious diet, plenty of sleep and exercise.

It also helps to keep the humidity up in your home.

Use humidifiers, if necessary, to keep the relative humidity at 20 to 45 percent.

And keep your thermostat down. Overheating your home dries out the air, will help you avoid complications

when colds do occur.

Finally, try to keep away from others who have colds.

Avoid crowds as much as possible during cold outbreaks.

Even with these precautions, chances are you will catch a cold anyway. If it happens to you: (1) get plenty of rest; (2) eat and drink sensibly (no need to "starve a cold"); with emphasis on fruit juices and hot liquids (yes, Mom's chicken soup does help); (3)

use only mild medication, such as aspirin and saltwater gargle; and (4) observe good hygiene—keep your drinking glasses and towels separate.

Watch out for complications. A cold's infection can spread to ears and sinuses. Take extra precautions with the very young and very old. Their disease-fighting ability is

Finally, remember that many serious illnesses can begin with the same symptoms as those of the common cold. So, if your symptoms become worse instead of better after a few days, see your doctor.

Pre-natal classes will be offered at St. Elizabeth

Medical Center, beginning

March 3. Classes will be held from 6:30 to 8:30 p.m. in the McKinley School classroom.

To register for classes and additional information, Quad-Cityans may contact the

Medical Center at 788-

3039.

Employment
GC problem
—Partney

While touring the deserted

A.O. Smith Corp. plant

yesterday, mayoral candidate Dan Partney of Granite City pledged that he will work to bring more business and industry to this area, if he is elected mayor.

"Everyone knows that

Granite City's number one problem is unemployment.

Everyone except the mayor.

I find it appalling that the present city hall administration has let these jobs go, virtually without a fight," Partney stated.

He said A.O. Smith's closing is "a prime example of city hall's failure to act, although the plant shutdown cost Granite City hundreds of full and part-time jobs.

"All the mayor did was talk about keeping A.O.

Smith in the community," Partney contended. "He never did anything of substance to influence the eventual outcome. It takes know-how and initiative to change a company's decision to leave, and those are two things the present mayor has not shown," Partney

The candidate said the Illinois State Chamber of Commerce estimates that the loss of 100 jobs in a community means a personal income loss of $2,440,000 and an annual sales drop of nearly $1.5 million.

In addition, he said, "A community also loses $1 million in bank deposits, 351

more people and 97 households. Granite City has lost 20 times that many jobs since the present mayor took office and just imagine the damage that has done to our

Solutions Partney feels would help the economic climate include tax incentives to attract major businesses and industry, creation of more industrial parks, increasing annexations, implementing more industrial revenue

bonds and developing better management-labor relations.

"We are talking about realistic solutions which take dedication and hard work to accomplish. That is why I am running for mayor, because I intend to make them happen for the people of Granite City," he concluded.

Hospice Personnel changes for city elects ambulances angers Whitmer

Hospice of Madison County accepted nominations for new board members, during January from the general membership and from the floor at the annual general membership meeting by petitions signed by at least ten percent of the existing membership, with a minimum of 17 signatures.

There were 12 candidates nominated for the eight open positions. The four directors who were re-elected were, Dr. Charles Corr, professor of Humanities-SIU; Roger Frank, assistant vice-president, St. Elizabeth Medical Center; Thomas E. Holloway, assistant vice-president of First Granite City National Bank; and Randall A. Irwin, owner and operator of Randall A. Irwin Chapel for Funerals.

There were also four new members elected to the board of directors. They were, Evelyn Bowles, Madison County county clerk; Dr. William Popovic, practicing Oncologist and Hematologist at St. Elizabeth Medical Center and DePaul Hospital; the Rev. John Walter, pastor of Madison United Methodist Church; and Rudolph G. Wilson, associate professor of education at SIUE. Each of the directors was elected for a three-year term.

At the monthly board of directors meeting in February, the board elected new officers for 1981 to the governing board. Randall Irwin was elected Chairman of the board. Diane Wedel, director of nursing at Madison County Nursing Home, was elected vice-president. Thomas E. Holloway, treasurer, and Betty A. Saffar, housewife and volunteer is the new secretary.

Saffar, medical director; Nina Millet, program coordinator; Rosemarie Lindner, director of public relations, and volunteers, John Papa, board attorney; Edward Reiske, chairman of fund-raising committee; Irving Rosvold, director of bereavement; Linda Steele, director of education; Sister Mary Thomas, president SEMC and liaison to the board and the Rev. Say tuition hikes 'inevitable' at SIUE

The Southern Illinois University Board of Trustees gave notice last week that tuition increases for Fiscal Year 1982 probably are inevitable.

University officers said specific tuition rate recommendations cannot be developed until Governor James Thompson makes his FY-82 budget proposals, expected in early March, but increases of approximately 10 percent are anticipated on the basis of Illinois Board of Higher Education (IBHE) recommendations approved in January.

Spokesmen said a decision on whether to change present tuition rates will be necessary at the March 12 meeting of the Board of Trustees to enable details of the University's appropriation bill to determine prior to legislative deadlines.

The IBHE budget recommendations approved Jan. 6 will require more than $2 million of additional tuition income from the SIUE system if the proposals are approved by the legislature. Translating to an increase of approximately 10 percent, tuition for full-time undergraduate students would be increased from the current $615 to approximately $678 per academic year at SIUE-Edwardsville and from the current $622 to approximately $685 per academic year at SIUE-Carbondale.

A rapid turnover of manpower among the city's ambulance attendants was criticized at Tuesday night's Granite City Council meeting by Alderman Sam Whitmer, chairman of the council's ambulance committee, who said he is tired of people jumping in and out until it's looking like a jack-in-the-box.

Mayor Paul Schuler noted that most of the emergency medical technicians (EMTs) who have left the ambulance service have done so to become firemen, at a higher pay rate. "The only sure way to stop it is to raise the EMTs pay to firemen's pay. Otherwise, you can't hold a man back," the mayor added.

It was indicated that the city does not have enough money to bring the EMT salaries up to the level paid firemen, but Whitmer commented, "I think we should get some people in there, down the line, who will stay in there."

He said the city is paying for most ambulance attendants to train as EMTs and paramedics, and they "taking our trained people out of ambulance and making firemen out of them. We are going to have to draw a line here. When an EMT becomes a fireman, the money for his training is, in a sense, gone."

"The EMT training can come in handy with a fireman, but it is not as important as in an ambulance," he added.

Whitmer's statements were sparked by the council's action approving the appointment of EMT Monaghan to the position of probationary fireman, effective immediately. Monaghan has served in ambulance service since March of 1977, when the city began operating its own ambulance service.

To fill the vacancy created by Monaghan's leaving the ambulance service, John Reinagel, 2211 Waterman Ave., was appointed a new EMT. He currently is in training for his EMT certification, the council was told.

Policy change in SIUE residency status

Policies which would change residency requirements and allow credits against non-resident tuition were considered last week by the Southern Illinois University Board of Trustees.

The proposed amendments to Policies of the Board will be submitted for action at the March 12 meeting of the trustees.

The proposals would allow SIUE-Carbondale and SIUE-Edwardsville, on a three-year experimental basis and within certain limited circumstances, to classify as in-state residents, for the purpose of assessing tuition, undergraduate and graduate students who are not defined as in-state residents under existing Board policies.

University officers said the proposed policies recognize that state boundaries do not necessarily define a university's constituency and supporters.

They added that policies now in effect in Kentucky and Missouri also recognize that fact.

One proposed change for the SIUE System parallels a Missouri State University (MSU) policy and would allow persons from 14 designated counties in western Kentucky to be defined as residents.

A second proposed change parallels a University of Missouri System policy and would allow persons from Missouri who register for not more than six semester or nine quarter hours to be defined as residents.

A third proposal would allow institution-to-institution agreements, approved by the SIUE chancellor, under which non-resident students could take courses at in-state tuition rates. An example of this type of agreement is the agreement approved by the board, allowing out-of-state students enrolled at Blackhawk College to take special education courses at the in-state tuition rate at SIUE-Edwardsville.

The fourth proposal in the policy changes being considered parallels another University of Missouri System policy, allowing residents of Missouri to offset against the difference between resident and non-resident tuition any income tax that they pay to the State of Illinois. The policy would also allow dependent children who are residents of Missouri to offset against the difference between resident and non-resident tuition any such tax paid by their parents or guardians.

The current SIUE-Edwardsville policy which allows students from designated counties in Missouri and the City of St. Louis to enroll for up to nine quarter hours in graduate-level courses at in-state tuition rates, would be superseded by the second change in the proposed amendments.

The SIUE System also has other policies that are similar to the proposed changes. Certain Armed Forces personnel from other states are defined as residents of Illinois, and persons from other states who are incarcerated in a state or federal place of detention in Illinois are treated as residents for the purpose of tuition rates.

Initially, the new policies would be in effect three years, during which time they would be evaluated in terms of their qualitative and quantitative effects upon the system and each university. In the rationale supporting the changes, University officers said they expect the new policies to be cost effective, to increase rather than reduce tuition revenue because more students from the designated areas are likely to enroll at Illinois institutions if tuition rates are not prohibitive.

Currently, non-resident tuition at SIUE-Carbondale and SIUE-Edwardsville is essentially three times that charged to residents.

Auto burglaries in Granite City during the month of January declined from 58 to 23, or 58 percent, although major crimes for the period increased by 19, or 11 percent, according to a report by Chief of Police Ronald Veizer.

Major crimes in eight categories totaled 196 for the month, compared to 177 in the same month a year ago.

Police, however, solved a total of 166 cases during January, an increase of 23, or 27 percent, over the 123 cases cleared in January 1980.

The report showed there were no homicides last month and none in the same month a year ago. There were no forcible rape cases, compared to one in January 1980.

Three robberies occurred last month, compared to one a year ago, but the number of assault cases jumped from 13 to 36.

There were no forcible rape cases, compared to one in January 1980.

First town sewer tap-ons

By GARY SCHNEIDER of the Press-Record

One business and one home are now using the new sanitary sewers through Nameki, Chouteau and Venice townships and additional hookups were anticipated today, since the mild weather this weekend gave several persons the opportunity to dig and lay new sewer lines.

Expecting a rash of tap-ons soon, Madison County Building and Zoning Administrator Paul Hawkins has assigned an inspector from his office to work from the sewer district's office at 4120 Highway 111 in Pontoon Beach.

Terry Pemberton will be the county's inspector for all tap-ons to the new system. County ordinances require a county inspector and an inspector from the sewer district to make the final connections of all individual sewers to the new county sewer lines, after inspecting each new individual sewer to determine that it will not leak ground or runoff water into the new sewer system.

Pemberton also has a list of registered contractors which homeowners may use to dig their sewer lines. The contractor must have a Madison County sewer license from the building and zoning department if the sewer is to be accepted for the system. Hawkins says he will enforce that rule.

Residents west of St. Thomas Road may make application now for tap-on permits at the sewer district office. Applications must be accompanied by a $25 inspection fee and applicants should bring a tax receipt or anything showing a permanent parcel identification number for the property. That number will be used for billing and for all subsequent contact with the sewer district.

Those who do not have a tax bill or old parcel identification number from their mortgage company or their township assessor. Processing applications without the permanent parcel identification numbers will slow approval of the tap-on, a spokesman for the sewer district said.

Obtaining the permit does not require that the home sewer be completed within any given period of time, he said. When the residential sewer then is completed from the house outlet to the new county sewers, the resident is to call the sewer district and request the inspectors, who will make the actual tap-on, he said.

"We hope to have inspectors on hand daily who will be immediately available when a homeowner says he is ready to tap onto the new sewers, so the inspectors can be there within the hour and complete the connection," he explained.

Futch emphasized that the trench for the home sewer must be open and the new home sewer exposed for the inspection. The inspector must see that ground water does not get into the pipe before he will connect it.

He also is to check to see that there are no roof downspouts, exterior drains or sources of surface runoff or ground water into the sewer. The sewers are for home sewage only, he stressed.

Persons who dig their own sewers and then are unable to locate the "T" connection on the county sewers where they are to tap on are urged to dig one foot to each side along the sewer to locate the connection. If the "T" still cannot be found, the homeowner should purchase a "saddle" to link the home sewer to the county's new sewer.

Only the sewer inspector can hook the saddle to the county sewer, it was stressed.

Persons purchasing their own plastic pipe for their home sewer lines should purchase six-inch PVC pipe with elastomeric seals, SRD (dimension ratio) 35 or better.

Joints should be ASTM D 3212, rubber sealed, with standard specifications for sewer joints using elastomeric seals.

The bed for the pipe should contain two inches of rock under the pipe and halfway up its sides, using a three-eighths inch minimum rock size.

At least a six-inch drop in each 100 feet of pipe is recommended.

Futch or Bennett can help homeowners determine where the T-connection for their home should be in the sewer pipe.

Futch predicted that 4,000 properties will be using the new sewer line within one year.

Homeowners may install their own sewer lines but anyone hiring a professional contractor to install his sewer should be sure that the contractor is licensed by the county. Sewers installed by non-licensed contractors will not be allowed into the system. "We intend to follow that rule," Futch told the committee.

City Engineer Monroe Brewer of Granite City expressed appreciation with that policy, saying properly installed lines will reduce groundwater seepage into the sewer system. If there is too much groundwater in the system, he warned, the EPA may require the city and county to identify the source of the inflow and to take measures to correct the problem, which could be very expensive and time-consuming, he indicated.

Futch said he or foreman Paul Bennett may be reached daily at the sewer office, 381-3400, by those who have questions on installation of their home sewers or whether a contractor is certified by the county.

Futch has announced that the sewer district now plans to bill households using the new county sewers monthly, rather than quarterly. The total fee for treatment, bond retirement, system maintenance and operation of the sewer district will be $11.80 per month, he noted.

Persons who do not pay their sewer bills may be subject to having their sewers cut off or to having a lien taken against their property, which could eventually be sold at a tax sale.

Another problem which will probably have to be worked out in the courts is the plight of about 135 homeowners who are in the sewer district, but will not be served by the new sewers.

Futch is urging those homeowners to obtain letters from his office, 4120 Highway 111, verifying that fact. The letter should be filed with the county clerk to be attached to the sewer taxes they have paid under protest.

Assistant Madison County State's Attorney Marshall "Zeke" Smith has pledged to file something with the courts to attempt to find a permanent resolution to the plight of those who will not receive sewer service, but are paying taxes for the sewers.

Persons involved include those who are already on Granite City sewers and will not require placement of county sewers near their homes.

They have been paying a $10 per quarter (three months) surcharge to the city, in addition to the $13 per quarter treatment rate charged all users of the Granite City sewage treatment plant.

That surcharge, designed to repay the city for past retirement of the bonds used to finance the local share of constructing the treatment plant, has expired and the Granite City Council may act tomorrow night to reinstate the $10 surcharge for those residing outside of the city limits, but using city sewers, rather than county sewers.

DISTRICT IN DEBT

The opening of the sewers, and the receipt of the first tap-on and maintenance fees is welcome news for the sewer district, which is approximately $21,000 in debt and probably will not be able to balance its books for three years, according to Madison County Auditor Arthur "Pete" Fields.

Fields addressed the sewer committee last week and said he feels borrowing by the sewer district will be necessary for the next three years until the district can repay its debts to the county and to the three townships it serves.

Nameki, Chouteau and Venice townships donated $23,000 each for engineering services and grant application work when the project first started. Louis Whitsell, chairman of the county's special sewer committee, said none of them have indicated a pressing need to have those loans repaid, so it may be years before the money is available.

However, Whitsell said the financial picture for the new sewer district may not be as bleak as Fields believes.

Whitsell said some additional grant funds are anticipated, if the EPA approves supplemental applications, including a $50,000 grant for three-phase wiring for the lift stations, and other change orders. Their is still $109,000 left in the construction fund which can be used to pay some of the district's salaries and bills, when it is released by the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency, Whitsell added.

"I also believe the grant might be updated. Originally it was for $12 million. Now it might come out more like $13 million. That could change the picture quite a bit," he added.

Whitsell also noted that the district spent only $48,200 of the $60,000 it borrowed from the county's highway funds last September, due to a ruling from Assistant State's Attorney Marshall "Zeke" Smith that the loan was illegal.

Fields warned that, despite last week's $65,000 loan from the county's working cash fund, the district should avoid unnecessary spending from what he termed "the wish list," which included a warehouse, office equipment, cranes, heavy equipment, spare parts, a monitoring system and other desires, even though the EPA will pay 75 percent of the cost.

The planned warehouse, or "maintenance facility," in the grant application, would require $194,927 in local funds, even if the EPA pays 75 percent of the cost, he noted.

Hooking 100 users per month onto the sewer system would still bring total income to $85,000 by the end of the current fiscal year, while the district's operating budget is $348,000, Fields noted.

The business to business yellow-page directory will be delivered to every manufacturing firm and business in St. Louis City and County, St. Charles, Franklin and Jefferson Counties in Missouri; and Madison, Clinton, St. Clair and Monroe Counties in Illinois.

Welland, president of Old Heritage Advertising and Publishers, Inc., St. Louis-based publishing firm, said over 100,000 directories will be delivered to 44,122 businesses and 3,078 manufacturing firms as well as to chambers of commerce, libraries, government offices, state purchasing agencies, schools, hospitals, motels and organizations. This is the third annual edition of the directory. Information regarding the directory may be secured by calling Old Heritage at (314) 432-5543.

GIVERS OF LIFE. Mark Evanson, left, and Greg Nighohossian, emergency medical technicians of the Granite City Fire Department Ambulance Service delivered a baby early Friday in their ambulance enroute St. Elizabeth Medical Center. The child was the fourth born in city ambulances since the city began operating the service.

Baby born as EMT aids mother in ambulance

By GARY SCHNEIDER of the Press-Record

"I didn't expect it to come quite that fast," Mrs. Diane Stuart, 3149 Jill Ave., commented after giving birth to a child in a Granite City Fire Department ambulance Friday morning.

At 5:20 a.m. Friday, Emergency Medical Technicians (EMTs) Greg Nighohossian and Mark Evanson of the city ambulance service were summoned to the Stuart home and found Mrs. Stuart was ready for a quick trip to St. Elizabeth Medical Center to have her baby.

They placed her on a stretcher and put her into the ambulance. Nighohossian drove the ambulance and Evanson attended to Mrs. Stuart. "Almost as soon as we got her into the ambulance, the baby crowned and before we could get around the curve in the road, within 30 seconds, the baby came," Evanson said.

The umbilical cord was "wrapped around the baby's neck, so Evanson had to gently free the newborn's neck from the twist of the cord and said that Evanson's shifts.

Evanson is in training to be a nurse and Nighohossian is about to complete his paramedic certification.

As for the mother, "She seemed pretty calm and made very little sound. It was a relatively easy delivery," Evanson said. The baby was her second.

Mrs. Stuart said Friday of the city's EMTs, "They did just fine. I didn't expect it (the baby) to come quite that fast."

The new arrival, who weighed seven pounds, has been named Thomas Joseph Stuart, after mother and baby and father, Tom, are doing well, she said.

From there to the medical center was a smooth ride. Afterwards, Evanson did not seem too excited about the delivery. After all, it was his third delivery in city ambulances. Only he and EMT Asadorian have actually delivered babies in city ambulances. Asadorian was teamed with Kevin Kieley when they delivered the first in late October, 1980. The rest have come during

Security advisor among speakers at GOP Lincoln Day event Feb. 26

General Al Knight, a security advisor to President Ronald Reagan and Illinois Secretary of State Jim Edgar will be featured speakers at the annual Madison County Lincoln Day Dinner Thursday, Feb. 26, at Lewis & Clark Restaurant in East Alton.

According to Dr. Edward Ragdale, Madison County Republican chairman, "General Knight will be coming from Washington, D.C. to discuss the deplorable state of our national security and steps President Reagan will be taking to improve this critical situation."

"General Knight is known as a dynamic, informative speaker who traveled to 60 cities in 30 states campaigning for President Reagan last year. He has more than 30 years experience in nuclear weapons and national security matters, having served in the Army, Department of Defense, Atomic Energy Commission and the Energy Research and Development Administration."

Dr. Ragdale continued, "Secretary of State Jim Edgar will come from Springfield to discuss his plans to improve that office. He is eager to get to know the people of Madison County and to upgrade the service of his office. He has a strong sense of commitment to run an effective, efficient office."

Other featured guests at the dinner will include Republican Madison County State's Attorney Don Weber and Republican state legislators from this area, as well as GOP candidates in the April election.

"The Republican Party in Madison County is stronger today than at any time in recent years," Dr. Ragdale stated, adding, "We want to build on the 1980 victory to increase our strength at the county level. The Democrats are losing their middle class supporters."

Last November, Ronald Reagan carried Madison County by 7,400 votes. The

"Everyone interested in a strong Republican Party is encouraged to attend the 'Lincoln Day Dinner,'" Dr. Ragdale stated.

A hospitality hour will begin at 6:15 p.m. at the restaurant. Tickets for the dinner are $15 per person and will be available at the door or may be purchased in advance from local Republican precinct committeemen or dinner chairman. Charlotte Longwich (1-259-2634).

Candidates for aldermen express views

Candidates for alderman in four of the city's wards addressed last week's meeting of the Granite City Democratic Club and the remainder of the candidates will be invited to address the club at its March meeting.

The club invited the aldermen candidates in Wards One through Four to speak last week.

The incumbent in the First Ward, Alderman Charles Douglas, told the gathering that he is hoping for a clean campaign and a good campaign.

"I am proud my name is in the paper a lot. I have tried to take the honest and the best position on every issue. You can do things right and 50 percent of the people will be against you," Douglas said.

He said the First Ward is "one of the oldest and poorest sections of the city" and should qualify for more Community Development money due to "a considerable number of problems."

He said the closing of McKinley School has made it necessary for many children to walk to Webster School and he criticized the school board for poor planning.

"We didn't need to build another high school in the first place," Douglas continued.

He said he felt the city could do a better job in curtailing pollution in the first ward. He also indicated that he feels the city should attempt to annex more of Granite City Steel to increase the tax base.

One of Douglas' opponents, Casmer Skubish, a former alderman of the ward, addressed the group, commenting that today, the city has a much greater income than it had when he was an alderman. "Then we had no state income tax. No sales tax. Revenue sharing income now is a substantial amount. The people are concerned with saving them dollars and getting the most from their money."

"I am retiring and I can spend more time on this city. Today, we need more than ever to solve these problems and answer our people," Skubish said.

Major issues he feels need addressed are a better city, more jobs, cleaner streets, attracting industry and business and maintaining a safe community.

Two other candidates for First Ward alderman, former alderman William "Bill" Dallas Sr. and Leroy Mangiaracino, were unable to attend the meeting and will be invited to address the club next month.

SECOND WARD
In the Second Ward, incumbent Alderman Fred "Pat" Schuman said he is proud of the job he has done, including ward cleanups, newsletters twice a year, ward meetings at city hall, improvements to curbs and the blacktopping of streets in the last four years.

"For four years, I have served on the finance committee and have questioned almost every item," he said, adding that the decision to self-insure for workmen's compensation saved the city $52,490 last year. "We are looking into other areas," he said.

As chairman of the negotiating committee, he has attended more than 80 negotiating sessions and has saved the city the need for professional negotiators. He has also helped close the gap between labor and management. There have been no strikes in five years, he added.

He asked to be re-elected, saying he feels he has offered "leadership which can be trusted and believed."

Schuman's only opponent, Joseph R. McGinness Sr., told the gathering, "My one goal is to work together to tell that we enjoy a better city in which to live. Our problems are not unique or one of a kind. The only way to overcome them is to join ourselves together and work for a common cause."

He said one major problem the city must address is unemployment and every effort should be made to make the city as enticing as possible for new business and industry.

"Regardless of who gets elected, we should make our minds to get behind them 100 percent and work for the unity of Granite City," he concluded.

WARD THREE

which veteran Alderman Roy Poulos is retiring, two candidates remain on the ballot. Nelson Duniag said he is from a business background and believes he has many qualities to offer.

He said he would like Granite City to once again become an "All American City," and has been helping in his way, by working with the Downtown Neighborhood Restoration Society to prove that old houses can be repaired. "That's where the best investment is and the only place a young person can buy a house to stay in," he added.

More jobs must be found for the unemployed, he said, adding, "People aren't lazy. They want to work." His opponent, Carl Kittle had high praise for the Third Ward. "I think we have got a tremendous ward—one of the best in Granite City," he commented.

He praised the Downtown Neighborhood Restoration Society and its work. "In our ward, we are unique, vital, innovative. There is a dynamic community in the Third Ward," he concluded.

"I feel I can represent that element which sometimes we forget about, the quiet majority, and try to make the city what the Third Ward already is," he concluded.

FOURTH WARD
Neither incumbent Alderman Glen Sprankle nor opponent John Zerkovich were to attend the meeting, but Sharon Perjak told the gathering, "It has become increasingly important that the right decisions are made. We need to turn onto a new course, encourage industry, turn business around and set a new course for Granite City," she said.

Her opponents will be invited to address the club next month, along with the candidates for mayor, township supervisor and aldermen in Wards Five through Seven. The date of the next meeting will be announced in the Press-Record, according to the club's president, Paul Pisk.

DISTRICT FINALISTS in the Illinois High School Association's district events contest included 11 from Granite City High School South, the only school which had 11 finalists in the 11 individual events offered. Of the eleven, eight advanced from the district to the sectional tournament. Both were held in O'Fallon. In the front row, from left, are Sue Shanta, Pam Stavelly, Mary Pennell and Mike Moore. In the second row are Dee Christoff, Mary Brandt, Desiree Gargac and Steve Hay. In the last row are Pat Collins, David Apperson and Mark Smith. Not pictured are Gene Scroggins and David Hunicutt, who also competed. The team finished in a tie for second place in the district contest.

$1,070 to Venice and $1,050 to Pontoon Beach. Granite City's allocation was the second highest among cities in Madison County, topped only by Alton with $14,110 in fines received.

Overall, Portell reported, a total of $177,698 in January fines was distributed, including $55,941 to the county government, $35,608 to the state for overweight trucks, $530 to the Illinois Commerce Commission and $560 to the Illinois Department of Conservation.

Troop 7 of St. Joseph's Catholic Church held its 1981 Winter Court of Honor last week in the Boy Scout Room of St. Joseph's School.

"The Spirit of Scouting" was the theme of the court, which was hosted by Junior Assistant Scoutmaster Mark Mainridge.

Senior Patrol Leader Steve Kusmierczak Jr. gave a brief history of scouting, dramatized by Assistant Senior Patrol Leader Phil Kimbrel, who portrayed William Boyce, founder of BSA and Mark Mainridge, who portrayed the unknown English scout who aided Boyce in London, when lost in the woods.

Karl Markovich Jr. gave an explanation of the scout motto: "Be Prepared."

Cobra Patrol Leader Jeff Kittle explained the scout sign, scout salute and the scout handshake, demonstrated by Flaming Arrow Patrol Leader Tony Jordan and Cobra Patrol Scout Mike Mainridge.

Cobra Assistant Patrol Leader Mark Brazel read the American Creed and explained its meaning.

Campfire skills were performed by Leadership Corps and the three Patrols of Troop 7, Flaming Arrow, Cobra and Panther.

Senior Patrol Leader Steve Kusmierczak Jr. informed scouts and their parents about Scout Sunday and the forthcoming Troop's fund-raiser, Boy Scout Circus. This fund-raiser will help defray transportation expenses to Springfield for attending Lincoln's Pilgrimage.

A progress review meeting was held in January and the advancement of Senior Patrol Leader Steve Kusmierczak Jr. to the rank of Eagle Scout was approved. Pending an approval from National Headquarters, BSA, an Eagle Court of Honor will be held Friday, March 6.

Troop 7 observed Scout Sunday by holding a 1981 Winter Communion Mass at St. Joseph's Church, Sunday, Feb. 8. February 8 marks the 71st Anniversary of the founding of BSA.

Father Victor Chateaufort, MSP, pastor of St. Joseph's and executive officer of Troop 7, celebrated Mass. He was assisted by censer bearer, Assistant Senior Patrol Leader of Flaming Arrow Patrol, Richard Schielling; cross bearer Mike Mainridge of Cobra Patrol; servers: Kevin Williamson of Flaming Arrow Patrol and Frank Scaturro of Panther Patrol; gift bearers:

William Flabe of Cobra Patrol; Karl Markovich Jr. of Panther Patrol; Senior Patrol Leader Steve Kusmierczak Jr.; Charles Judd and the choir of St. Joseph's provided the following musical arrangements: "America," "Amazing Grace," "Kum Ba Yah," "Whatsoever You Do" and "Battle Hymn of the Republic."

F. Victor bestowed a special blessing on scouts and their parents after mass, using the words of the Scout Oath. Coffee, hot cocoa and donuts were served.

Child support program working

Governor James R. Thompson has reported that the Illinois Department of Public Aid collected more than $1.35 million in child support payments in January, 23 percent more than a year ago.

"The improved collection rate is encouraging," Thompson said. "These collections lower the cost of welfare programs for the taxpayers. The department will continue to pursue new means of increasing collections."

In January, 1980, the Bureau of Child Support in the Department collected $1,100,000 in payments, compared with $1,353,000 in January, 1981. Ordinarily, periods of high unemployment, like the one presently being experienced, are low collection periods. Thompson attributed the recent successes to such factors as increased public support for child enforcement programs, a get-tough stance in the courts and use of collection methods similar to those utilized in the private sector. The Governor said that Chief Circuit Court Judge Harry Comerford's plan to centralize all Cook County paternity and child support

Child support payments are collected by the Department's Bureau of Child Support from absent parents located by the Bureau.

The Bureau of Child Support in the Department locates absent parents and collects child support payments from individuals whose dependents are receiving public assistance. Identical services are available, at a fee, for individuals not receiving public aid. The Bureau's activities are coordinated closely with state's attorney's offices in the state and nationwide with child support agencies.

Motorcycle deaths rise
The death rate per 100 million miles of travel by motorcycles is three to five times higher than the rate for all motor vehicles. After the removal of motorcycle helmet-use laws in a number of states, motorcycle fatalities rose from 3,812 to 4,850 over 46 percent — between 1976 and 1979.

Beta Sigma Phi Sorority, an international cultural and social organization, this year is celebrating the 50th anniversary of its founding. There are five active chapters of the sorority in Granite City—Preceptor Beta Gamma, Xi Epsilon Chi, Nu Zeta, Pi Eta and Theta Theta. Beta Sigma Phi has chapters throughout the free world with a total membership of 248,000 women. In observance of the golden anniversary year, Granite City Mayor Paul Schuler signed a proclamation which reads in part:

"Whereas, Beta Sigma Phi is an international organization created for women in search of culture and social activity, and it gives its members an intimate touch with many lives and many minds. "Whereas, to many of us, Beta Sigma Phi is a way of life. And in the adventure which is life itself, we have the power to shape our lives; a chance to serve others and to grow. "Now, therefore, I Paul Schuler, Mayor of the city of Granite City, Illinois, do hereby proclaim this year as Beta Sigma Phi's Golden Anniversary Year in the city of Granite City."

The sorority was formed in 1931 in Abilene, Kan. Chapters were organized locally about 30 years ago. Some years ago, local chapters created a "City Council," consisting of representatives from the individual units. At a recent meeting of the council, conducted by Betty Beck, president, plans for the anniversary were reviewed. Events will include the traditional Founder's Day banquet, to be held in April. Several chapters will combine their efforts to sponsor a rush party to supplement Ritual of Jewels chapters, it was announced. Mrs. Beck also invited members to a "blooming basket" party at her home at 7:30 p.m. Friday, Feb. 20. Women, 18 years and over, who are interested in learning more about Beta Sigma Phi, may contact Barbara Hente, International Lampighter representative, at 797-8817, or any other member of the organization for information.

Break ground March 1 for Venice apartments

Groundbreaking and construction of a 92-unit housing complex at Bissell Avenue and Klein Street in Venice is scheduled for March 1, it was announced Friday by officials of S.M. Wilson & Co., contractor for the project.

The $3.4 million project will be federally-subsidized by the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development.

Under the HUD Section Eight housing program, eligible families will be selected for the project and will pay no more than one-fourth of their incomes for rent. HUD will pay the remainder of what would be a fair-market rate for rental of the apartments.

WOOD RIVER—The Granite City South wrestling team kept rolling here Saturday. The Warriors won their 24th consecutive district championship at Wood River High and the outcome was never in doubt. South and sister-school Granite City North stole the show.

North qualified seven wrestlers to the South sectional this weekend with one champion and six second place finishers. The Warriors were awesome. They had eight champions and one second place finisher.

The Warriors have now won every district tournament they have ever competed in. The remaining three South wrestlers on the squad placed third and became alternates to the sectional. So South has the opportunity of wrestling its entire team this weekend. "It made it possible for us to win our 24th straight district meet," said Warrior head coach Bill Schmitt.

North's head coach Walt Whitaker was very surprised at the number of qualifiers the Steelers produced. "I thought six was as many as we could have gotten through," said Whitaker. "So, we got one better."

Warriors, Steelers dominate 'AA' tournament

qualified a number of wrestlers. They captured the 99-pound weight class as Rob Nilazzo defeated North's Mike Robinson 13-4 for first place. Robinson received second. "It was our plan all year to have him (Robinson) wrestle at 98," said Whitaker. Robinson had been wrestling at 105.

South's Chris Cottrell placed third when he beat Cary Hunter of Edwardsville 5-2. Again it was a Roxana man taking the first spot when Rob Warren beat the Warrior's Mike Turgovich 12-2, at 105. Turgovich placed second.

Gerald Miller continued his success for North as he quickly advanced to 112 when he pinned Roxana's Mike Plummer in 38 seconds to take first place. Plummer placed second and Rich Miller of South captured a third spot with a 7-1 decision over Terry Ohren of Highland.

The battle went on between Greg Garland of South and Steve Smith of North 119. In their third meeting of the year, Garland took the championship bout 13-2. Smith had to settle for a second.

At 126, it was another inter-city rivalry. The Warrior's Randy Lapardas prevailed over Rob Unger of North 5-4 to win first place. Unger advanced with a second.

The Steelers' Glenn Thompson was forced into a second place finish at 132 as he was pinned by Mark Kristoff of Bethalto. Mike Neiber took the other third place spot for South with a 9-4 win over Andy Somraty of Edwardsville.

The Warriors have been so dominating all year long in the final six weight classes and they maintained their strength in the districts. Tom McElroy had little trouble at the heavyweight bout. South's Bruce Monahan took a first with an easy 14-2 win over Terry Bradford.

In all honesty, Schmitt thought that his squad was only going to get six wins through the tournament. "I was very pleased that we got more," said Schmitt.

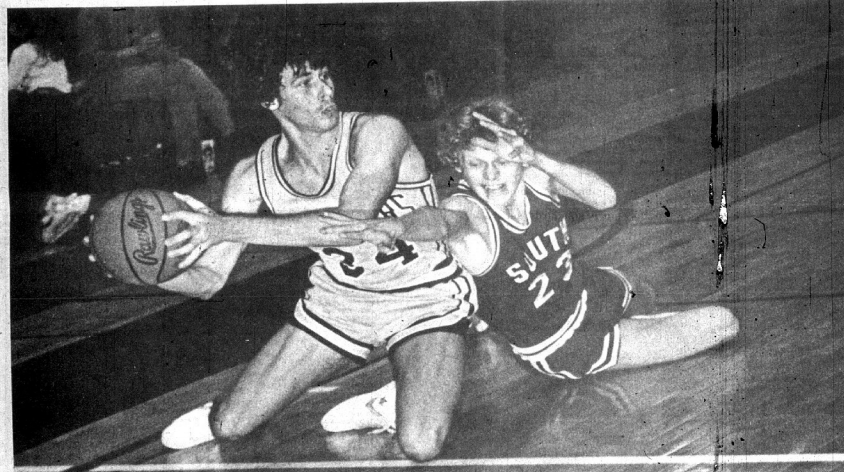

North, 6-2. Corey placed second.

It was another Warrior first at 167 when Ken Dowdy won over Jean Edmond of Edwardsville 8-1. Having already placed third at 167, the Steeler's Bob Patton was able to wrestle back for a higher place. He took second with a 5-4 win over Edmond.

Having only lost one bout all season, South's Jim Frangoulis met the wrestler that gave him that loss. In the championship match at 185, Frangoulis had built an 11-1 lead before Brian Regna of Edwardsville was forced to default because of an injury.

The Warriors rounded out their clean sweep of the district tournament with their sixth championship in a row at the heavyweight bout. South's Bruce Monahan took a first with an easy 14-2 win over Terry Bradford.

In all honesty, Schmitt thought that his squad was only going to get six wins through the tournament. "I was very pleased that we got more," said Schmitt.

Warriors take close city battle

GRANITE CITY—A word to those who want to beat up Granite City North's basketball team: Make your hay while the sun shines. The Steelers won't be down much longer.

Granite City South broke away midway through the fourth quarter here Saturday night and claimed the city basketball championship with a 60-52 victory over pesky Granite City North at Steeler Gym.

North, which saw its record fall to 0-20 on the season, looked like a different ball club from the one which racked up the first 19 losses. The Steelers played a smart game. But in the end, it was pressure that played a large part in the loss. "We just don't have that little extra it takes to win," said North coach Bill Ohlendorf. "We played well and we played hard. But right at the end, we missed some layups and free throws when we had a chance to get back in the lead."

"But then, we've never been in a game that late before."

In the Steelers' were. Perhaps South was down from its strong showing against Class A power Madison the night before. South lost 70-60. But whatever, North hadn't looked so strong since its last victory—over Highland in the first game of the Class AA regional in March of 1980. "We weren't sharp," said South coach Don Deterding. "But give North credit. They were patient and it paid off."

North's patience paid off time and again with Mike Sullivan getting loose for back-door plays behind the Warriors' defense. "Against our defense you have to be patient," said Deterding. "They (North) just passed the ball and waited until one of our guys would gamble and go for a steal. It worked."

The first stages of the game looked more like a football game than basketball. Errant passes, fumbles, bodies tumbling over each other. Typical North-South stuff. The lead changed hands several times in the first quarter until George Sykes hit a 20-footer with five seconds remaining to give the Warriors a 13-12 quarter-stop lead.

In the second quarter, North took the early lead, but again South came back to make it close. The Steelers' biggest lead of the ballgame came when Rich Takmanjian hit a 15-foot jump shot with 5:32 remaining in the second quarter to make it 34-26. But back came the Warriors.

First came an 18-foot jump shot by South's Ken McManus. Then a layup by Jim Choat following up his own missed shot. That made it 34-30. After North's Harold Rody made two free throws to make it 36-30, Choat hit a 15-footer from the right side to close the gap to four. The lead went from two to four points the rest of the quarter. A basket at the buzzer by Luehmann gave North a 26-24 halftime lead.

With 10 seconds left in the third quarter, Luehmann drove the length of the court and made a layup, making it 44-41. North, but back came South's Jim Petty, who took the rebounds pass and pulled up about 18 feet from the basket. His bank shot went through the hoop as the buzzer sounded, bringing the Warriors back to within one point at the end of the quarter.

"That was the turning point of the game," said South assistant coach Mike Harmon. "We had been kids approached the game," looked like we'd be down three at the end of the quarter. But Petty hit that shot to bring us back."

"That gave us a lift going into the fourth quarter." South didn't take charge in the fourth quarter until about two minutes remained.

"I'm proud of the way our kids approached the game," said North's Ohlendorf. "It's hard to prepare for a game when you're losing like we were. They been on the other side of it a few times when we were defeated (while head man at Venice). It's hard to get a team motivated. I'm sure Larry Graham (Madison head coach) and Jerry Leggett (Quincy head coach) are having a hard time getting their teams ready."

"South changed defenses the last two minutes and had us totally confused," Ohlendorf said. "But you know, South's not that bad a team. They gave Madison a hell of a game and they beat Alton. And we still had our chances to win after the switch."

Madison rolls over St. Paul

By TOM SCHOCKER of the Press-Record
MADISON—St. Paul (Highland) head coach Mike Curran wasn't really concerned that his team was playing the Madison Trojans here Saturday night. After all, Madison was the only the fourth-state-ranked team the Vikings have had to face in the last three weeks. Intimidated they were not. The Vikings scrapped all they could, but Madison recovered from a late start and overpowered St. Paul 84-64.

When you have a center that stands only 5-11, your luck on the boards might run a little thin. St. Paul knows all too well about that problem. So the Vikings went to plan two. They used their quickness. That plan worked.

"Madison had a tough time matching up against us defensively," said Curran.

"They're good on the boards, but the thing going for us is our quickness. We do have some good shooters."

As their last home game of the season, the Trojans surely wanted to put on a good performance. But they failed to notice that St. Paul came to play. The Vikings took a early 5-0 lead and 13-10 first quarter margin proved it to Madison.

"I thought the players were a little tight," said Trojan head coach Larry Graham. "It was our last game at home and I think they (Madison) wanted to see who could be the hero and score all the points. They were keyed up and wanted to play well. When you don't score, you don't look good." St. Paul slowed the tempo of the game down. The Vikings flirted with the lead for 3/4 quarter and a half but couldn't keep Madison at that pace.

"We did a good job slowing the ball down in the first half," said Curran. "But, when you start to play (the Madison) tempo, you're playing right into their hands."

As he has done so many times in the past, the Trojans' Pat Hatter fired his team up. This time it came in the second quarter. Taking a pass from Kerwin Stanley, Hatter went on the fast break and woke the crowd up with a slam dunk. The tempo had changed and Hatter went on a rampage.

Hatter's stuff gave Madison the momentum. Mark Madgett followed with a bucket that pushed the Trojans into the lead for the first time in the second quarter. Hatter continued with two straight baskets and his free throw to end the quarter capped off a string of 13 unanswered points.

"Hatter picked up his defense," said Graham. "He caused some turnovers and it helped his offense." Hatter proceeded to put on a final far well show. Storming through the Viking defense, he chalked up 11 points in the third quarter and a game-high 22.

"You can't play catch-up with Madison," said Curran. "They are an awfully good shooting team when you start to run with them. We just had to put the ball in the basket in that second quarter and we didn't and they did."

The rest of the game we played them even up."

Five minute falter cost St. Paul. After winning the first quarter, the Vikings only lost four points in the third and six in the fourth. And it was ironic that their free throw shooting, which kept them in respectable distance late in the game, put them behind in the early going.

'Officer Friendly' game set Feb. 26

The ninth annual "Officer Friendly" benefit basketball game will be contested between Granite City police officers and firefighters at 8 p.m. Thursday, Feb. 26, in Memorial Gymnasium at Granite City High School.

Although the Big Red All-Stars will be missing from this year's lineup, the renewal of the race rivalry between policemen and firemen, plus the latter department's emergency medical technicians, will provide some "bruising action for patrons," Officer Friendly Fred Hoffman promises.

Proceeds from the traditional game are used to finance equipment and fees for athletic squads sponsored by the police department's Officer Friendly youth program.

Tickets, costing $2 each, which will admit one adult or two children under 12 years of age, may be obtained from police officers, firemen or at their department headquarters.

The last time the two departments met was in 1976 when they battled into overtime before the firefighters claimed the Mayor's Cup, which is awarded the winning team in the intra-city championship. The cup was donated by Granite City Mayor Paul Schuler and is inscribed with the name of the winning team and the year.

Lead-poisoning cases up
During 1979 32,362 cases of children having lead poisoning were reported to the Center for Disease Control. That was 6.8 percent of the 477,646 children screened in the 70 community-based programs which generally operate in the inner cities. The number was up 21 percent over 1978.

Former Smith workers back Dan Partney

A committee of former employees of the A.O. Smith plant here has endorsed the candidacy of Dan Partney for mayor of Granite City. The committee said it had "joined together to explore the means of obtaining benefits and other opportunities after the unfortunate closing of the Granite City plant of A.O. Smith." Bid opening April 2 on building multi-purpose facility for SIUE

Construction of the proposed multi-purpose facility at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville could begin as early as mid-April, if bids opened by the Illinois Capital Development Board April 2 are within the acceptable guidelines of the CDB, according to State Sen. Sam Vadala (D-Edwardsville).

Vadala announced Tuesday the date for the bid openings on the estimated $11 million facility, which will include a gymnasium, indoor swimming pool and other physical education and recreation facilities.

Currently, SIUE is the only state-supported institute of higher learning in the state which lacks such a facility.

Vadala noted that in the last bid opening for the facility, the bids were about $2 million over the engineers' estimates and were rejected by the CDB. The facility now has been redesigned to reduce the cost and the senator said he is hopeful that bidding April 2 will result in a contract for construction, which could begin in mid-April.

Bids from mechanical contractors will be opened at 11 a.m. April 2 at the CDB office in Springfield and bids from the general contractors will be opened at 3 p.m. the same day. "I have been working on this for 14 years and I hope that this, my 15th year of pushing for this facility, will be the one in which construction starts. It is estimated the building will take two and one-half to three years to complete."

"The multi-purpose building will make the SIUE campus a total facility and this will be a good boost to the economy, not only in the construction jobs during its building, but in the people it will employ afterwards," Vadala concluded.

Cahokia Mounds museum needs volunteer workers

The Cahokia Mounds Museum needs volunteers on a year-round basis to give tours and lectures, work on exhibits and displays, maintenance, and archaeological laboratory.

The site is a fascinating archaeological find, but help from the community must be enlisted in order to accomplish certain goals.

Cahokia Mounds is a state historical site, which preserves the remains of the central section of the only prehistoric Indian city north of Mexico. The 1300-acre state site has a recorded number of mounds.

There were originally 100 mounds, but many were destroyed by cultivation before the numbering system began.

The mounds were once a part of the prehistoric Indian city of Cahokia. The city covered about six square miles and had a population of tens of thousands. Volunteer work at the Cahokia Mounds site should prove to be an interesting and rewarding experience. Interested persons may contact either Elaine or Joan at 344-5268, Monday through Friday 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Makes top marks at Tyndall

Airman Barbara Matkins, an administration specialist at the 2nd Fighter Interceptor Squadron, scored a 95 percent on her "end of course" examination, it was announced this week.

She is the first person with the 2nd FITS at Tyndall Air Force Base, Fla., to receive such a high score.

Airman Matkins, 20, is the daughter of Mrs. Daisy Matkins, 307 Hill St., Eagle Park.

She is a 1978 graduate of Venice High School and attended Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville. Airman Matkins joined the service Nov. 29, 1979, and received her technical training at Keesler AFB, Miss.

She was assigned to Tyndall AFB, near Panama City, Fla., last April.

Banners to proclaim clean-up project

Banners proclaiming the Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce annual clean-up scheduled for April 25 to May 1 will soon be appearing at prominent locations throughout the Quad-City area.

The giant banners will be placed at "high traffic" areas to remind residents of the massive cleanup campaign being planned for those days.

More than 1,300 Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts have volunteered to help in the cleanup and the Chamber is urging industries, businesses and families to plan clean-up programs in conjunction with the city-wide cleanup.

Trucks from the city will be available for removing large items and volunteers will be picking up smaller items in trash bags donated by the local McDonald's Restaurants.

In order to help publicize the event, the Community Pride Committee of the Chamber is preparing signs for store windows, is sponsoring a poster contest for local students and is planning numerous other activities to promote the cleanup.

According to Ray Edwards, chairman of the committee.

Planned locations for the giant banners include Fourth Street and Broadway in Venice, Sixth Street and Madison Avenue in Madison, and Niedringhaus and Madison avenues, Nameoki and Johnson Roads, one in Pontoon Beach and another in Mitchell.

Victim of heart attack 'thankful'

By VALERIE EVENDEN of the Press-Record

"I am feeling fine and the doctor says I can go home on Monday," Roy Lynn said in a call to the Press-Record Friday morning.

Mr. Lynn, 84, had suffered a discharging heart attack on Feb. 8 while at the Third Baptist Church and his breathing had been restored by two women who were graduates of cardiopulmonary resuscitation training.

Credited with saving Mr. Lynn's life are Mrs. Donna J. Pratt-Hall of Granite City and Nancy Greer of Lexington, Ky., a former resident who was home visiting her parents.

"I want to thank you and the Press-Record and everybody," Mr. Lynn said in his call.

"Especially, I want to thank those girls for without them I wouldn't be here," he stressed.

"I really didn't know all that had happened until a deacon of the church came to see me last night (Thursday) at the hospital and read the story in the paper to me," Mr. Lynn said.

Following his breathing being restored by the two women, he had been taken by ambulance to St. Elizabeth Medical Center and had remained in the intensive care unit until Wednesday.

"I was trying to find a seat for my daughter who was attending church with me when my chest became sore and suddenly I began to black out. I didn't know anything else until I woke up in the hospital," he said.

"I think it is a wonderful service the Red Cross is offering in training people in CPR. In fact, we have two classes now going on at Third Baptist Church," Mr. Lynn commented.

Mr. Lynn is a former member of the Tri-City American Red Cross Chapter Board of Directors and the Salvation Army Advisory Board.

He served for many years on the board of the Protestant Welfare Association and has been a active volunteer worker in numerous service and charitable projects in the local community.

Seminar Feb. 21 on family crises

The Madison County Urban League will present a family life seminar on Saturday, Feb. 21, at the Mount Nebo Missionary Baptist Church, 800 Jefferson St., Madison, from 8:30 a.m. to noon.

The Family Life Seminar will concentrate on disease prevention, pregnant teenagers, and one-parent families. Films will be shown and there will be a discussion of these topics by group leaders with a question and answer session.

Registration is from 8:30 to 9:15 a.m., during which coffee and hot chocolate will be served. Anyone age 13 and over is invited to attend.

Workshop leaders are Mrs. Bernice Savage, registered nurse; Mrs. Earline Howard, Mrs. Hilda James, R.N., Charles Haynes, Mrs. Metro Pierson, Mrs. Barbara Madison and others.

According to the Division of Family Health of the Department of Illinois Public Health, there have been 610 teenage pregnancies in the Quad-Cities area with 14 of these ending in fetal deaths. These statistics are relative for the age group 10 to 19.

Half of all black children have working mothers and half of all black preschoolers live in single-parent families, the department says.

About one million children run away from home each year, according to national statistics and 500,000 teenagers become mothers each year.

"The underprivileged are not the only ones in need of services. Families' decision to seek help from outside should be seen as a sign of strength, not as an admission of failure. The family life seminar will try to prevent crises, rather than simply react to them," a spokesman said.

The Rev. Jerome Jackson is pastor of the church.

Read carefully offers of free burial plots who calls to "process" the certificate may proceed to endeavor to sell additional spaces for the veteran's spouse and children.

In addition, some such free lots have other requirements concerning the burial, such as the purchase of a national stone or markers, extensive requirements for vaults, etc., and in some cases a rather expensive fee for grave opening costs.

An honorably discharged veteran may be buried free of charge in a national cemetery, however the VA does not pay transportation costs to the cemetery in cases where the death was not service-connected.

Veterans are reminded that private cemeteries offering free burial spaces to them are not connected with the agency in any way.

Official-looking documents are often sent to veterans describing a program providing a free burial space to a veteran.

The VA urges veterans to read the documents carefully. In most cases the free space is actually provided, but the salesman describing a program providing a free burial space to a veteran.

Surviving spouses of a veteran are eligible for burial in a national cemetery as well as two surviving children.

Survivors of veterans who are not buried in national cemeteries receive up to $450 for burial and plot allowances. A burial flag is provided for all veterans, and a headstone or marker is also provided to all veterans free of charge.

SIUE to exchange teachers with Australian schools

Every elementary school has a swimming pool and every teacher gets paid a little more because the schools are administered by the state.

That's the big difference in Australian schools, said education professor Keith Hopkins, but it should be good news to professors at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

Hopkins was in Edwardsville to complete plans for an exchange program that will allow SIUE teachers to trade places with their Australian counterparts beginning next summer.

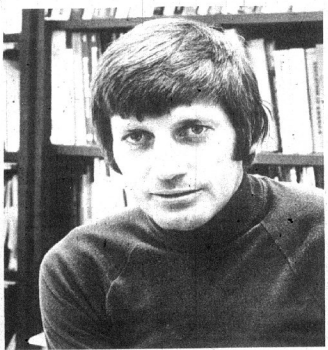

The agreement will swap cultures and classroom viewpoints with Mount Gravatt College of Advanced Education in Brisbane, a teacher training school.

The swimming pools are possible because the country's climate is similar to the east coast of Florida, Hopkins said. He is a native Australian but earned his master's degree at the University of Florida.

Australians have state-run schools because they believe it is a better system than local school districts, he said. "There are no rich or poor local schools. All the areas share in the funds, so the quality is equalized."

Hopkins made comparisons after brief visits to elementary classrooms in Edwardsville, where he noticed separate reading classes. "In Australia, reading is part of the total language arts program," he said.

In math, the educator saw little difference but said the Australians put more emphasis on non-competitive sports than Americans do. "There are more similarities than differences," he admitted, "but we have common problems."

Hopkins said parents in Australia also want teachers to concentrate on the three Rs despite the fact that spelling, math and reading scores have varied little in the last five years. "Whether it is real or imagined, it is a common issue," he said.

The exchange idea got its start when James Comer, SIUE professor of elementary and early childhood education, took a six-month sabbatical to teach at Mount Gravatt and study the educational systems in Australian schools.

He gained so much from the experience he wanted others to share it. Hopkins said. The return visit to set up the tentative exchange program was the next logical step.

Comer said educators from both countries will benefit professionally by comparing the strengths and weaknesses in both systems and will develop personally by learning to adapt to a different culture.

"You can put someone into another culture, but you don't understand unless you go and live in it," he said. The exchange agreement is open-ended and will continue as long as both schools seek a mutual advantage, Comer said.

Plan April 4 reunion for former GCHS band members

All former members or associates of the Granite City High School Band are being invited to the band's first full reunion Saturday, April 4, at Augustine's

Pollutant data made available

A clearinghouse providing information to the business community on environmental controlled trading in industrial emissions of air pollutants is being formed by the Illinois State Chamber of Commerce in cooperation with the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency and the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency.

This is a first of its kind demonstration project being funded by a $50,000 grant from USEPA. It is intended to encourage innovative, cost-effective ways to come in compliance with existing air quality standards.

Michael P. Maury, director of the IEPA, said, "This project is part of a series of continuing efforts taken by the IEPA, this agency and the Chamber to increase the business community's understanding of the requirements of the Clean Air Act, in order to achieve the attainment of its goals in the most efficient and economical way."

One of the methods being considered is the bubble concept which would permit sources to place a greater burden of control where the marginal cost of control is low and to reduce control requirements where the cost is high. Such proposals would have to be approved by IEPA and incorporated into the State Implementation Plan.

The project is intended to address controlled trading in two time frames. First, the project would act as an information clearinghouse to identify and assist potential bubble participants to meet the 1982 Clean Air Act deadlines. Second, the latter phase of the project would act as an emission offset clearinghouse in order to accommodate new growth in future years in areas not meeting air quality standards.

Firms interested in further information or participating in the program should contact the Illinois State Chamber of Commerce, 20 North Wacker Drive, Chicago, Ill. 60606. Telephone (312) 372-7373.

William Waldemere, administrative assistant of the Department of Commerce and Community Affairs will be the speaker. He will speak on Community Affairs.

Care of baby's teeth needs to begin early

Illinois Department of Public Health

You should be concerned about the proper care of your children's teeth by the time they are two years of age. Right? Wrong? You should be concerned about your children's teeth before they are even born — no later than two months after conception.

A baby's teeth begin to grow when the fetus is only eight weeks old.

Your blood must supply the nutrients to build strong teeth, strong jaw bones and healthy gums.

The Illinois Department of Public Health urges you to see your dentist as soon as you know that you are pregnant.

You need to know what foods to eat in order to supply nourishment not only for your unborn baby but also for yourself so that the tissues of your mouth do not suffer.

Your dentist can advise you about what foods to eat and the quantity needed to supply adequate amounts of vitamins A, C and D. Some vitamins, if taken in too large a quantity, can be toxic to your system.

Minerals, especially calcium and phosphorus, are particularly important to the healthy formation of the enamel and enamel layers of your baby's teeth.

When the time your baby is born, the formation of the enamel layer of the primary teeth continues to go on after birth.

The enamel layer provides protection for the tooth. But enamel also is subject to decay.

Parents and physicians are now aware of an enamel-dissolving hazard known as "nursing bottle caries."

The practice of putting your baby to bed with a bottle of citrus juice, formula or soft drink can result in prolonged acid and sugar contact with the teeth.

When the baby is asleep, saliva flow decreases. If the bottle remains in the mouth, there is not enough saliva to neutralize the acidity of the sugary liquids, and this leads to erosion of tooth enamel.

To avoid nursing bottle caries, citrus juices, milk, formula and drinks containing sugar should be fed from a bottle while the baby is in an upright position, or from a cup at an appropriate age.

If your child needs a bottle of water for comfort, be sure to use water.

Major collective bargaining settlements in the private sector during 1980 provided average first-year wage adjustments of 6.5 percent, higher than the 7.4 percent average negotiated in private-sector settlements throughout 1979, according to preliminary data reported by the Bureau of Labor Statistics of the U.S. Department of Labor.

Annual wage adjustments over the life of the contracts in this sector averaged 7.1 percent in 1980 and 6.0 percent in 1979. These settlement figures do not include estimates of potential wage increases under cost-of-living adjustments (COLA) clauses. About 61 percent of the workers under 1980 settlements were covered by contracts with COLA clauses, slightly higher than the 58 percent for all major contracts negotiated in 1979.

As in the past, 1980 settlements including COLA clauses tended to be smaller than those without such clauses. First-year negotiated wage adjustments in contracts with COLA provisions averaged 8 percent, compared with 11.8 percent for contracts without such provisions.

(Corresponding averages were 6.2 and 9.1 percent in 1979.)

When negotiated wage adjustments are averaged over the life of the contracts, the annual rates in 1980 were 5 percent for contracts with COLA clauses and 10.4 percent for those without (compared with 4.6 and 8.0 percent in 1979).

In 1980, COLA clauses that triggered wage increases provided pay gains averaging 58 percent of the rise in the Consumer Price Index during the same time period. COLA increases (under clauses negotiated in 1980) and also those operative in the year but negotiated earlier) averaged 7.3 percent, while the Consumer Price Index for Urban Wage Earners and Clerical Workers (CPI-W) rose 12.5 percent.

The International Year of Disabled Persons (IYDP) has been officially proclaimed by President Ronald Reagan in a ceremony in the Oval Office of the White House.

"Today there are 35 million Americans who represent one of our most under-utilized national resources," the president said. "All of us stand to gain when those who are disabled share in America's opportunities."

Pres. Reagan commended the leadership of the U.S. Council for the Handicapped, pledged the cooperation of his administration, and asked for combined efforts by private and public sectors to expand "opportunities for disabled Americans to make a fuller contribution to our national life."

Richard S. Schweiker, secretary of the Department of Health and Human Services, participated in the ceremony.

Alan A. Reich, president of the U.S. Council, the private, non-profit group organized to promote the year in this country, thanked the president for officially recognizing the observance.

"You should know," Reich said, "that this is truly a nationwide partnership effort already involving 1,500 communities, all states, 100 major corporations and 300 national organizations."

Reich said the U.S. Council supports the president's "efforts to achieve world peace and a stable economy. What is good for disabled Americans is good for all Americans."

Group agrees with curriculum changes

The Vocational Advisory Council of the Granite City school district, at a dinner meeting last week, concurred with curriculum changes in the business education program at the two Granite City high schools.

The industrial education committee made recommendations on the next house to be constructed by high school building trades students. It is proposed to reduce the size and to add an energy-efficient fireplace.

Discussions also included adding diesel mechanics to the automotive instructional program, and studying the possibility of a vocational registration counselor at each high school.

Chairman Ron Hicks presided and committee meetings were conducted. The home economics group noted additions to the content of various courses.

Suggestions for the next meeting included a presentation on a career education pilot class that is now in progress, a presentation by the vocational placement counselor, and a visit to the building trades house currently under construction.

Those attending included Louis Bisto, Mildred Chandler, Milton Collins, Jane Fears, Iris Gann, Don Gerstenecker, Jo Meyer, Judith Horsby, Dave King, Jack Parrelly, Cathy Riebold, Larry Talbert, Jack Viter, Lois Woods and Vocational Education Director Thomas Holloway.

Groups to seek school facilities; March 4 deadline

Organizations wishing to use school facilities for spring summer 1981 athletic programs and activities are being asked to contact the Granite City School District, 20th and Adams streets, by letter before March 4.

Those requesting school facilities are to specify which field or building, the name and sponsor of the organization, and the location, date and time needed.

Refuge for Eliza?

Rankin House, near Ripley, Ohio, is the restored home of the Rev. John Rankin, an early abolitionist. A station on the "underground railroad," it reportedly is the home in which Eliza, "Uncle Tom's Cabin," found refuge after crossing the Ohio River ice nearby.

Cutbacks in federal GC school program

As an economy measure, the Granite City school district's application for its Title I federal program in 1980-81 is being revised to remove funds previously proposed for attendance at state and national meetings by parents, administrators and instructional personnel. Attendance will be restricted to meetings in this immediate area.

School attendance will stop on May 26 for pre-school children, to allow the teachers the last week of the term to conclude their work on a preschool curriculum guide.

The Title I summer school will be eliminated for the junior high school level in 1981. Dale C. Rea, assistant to the superintendent, reports that "because of late Congressional action on the appropriation bill for this school year, several changes were made in our budget at the state level in order to gain budget approval."

"The forward funding provision of the law provides assurance of a minimum of 85 percent of the previous year's allocation, and the total amount of carryover was not known until the final report on the 1979-80 program."

"The indirect cost factor was removed and the teacher salary account was reduced so that the total project budget will conform to the funds known to be available."

"At present, the amount of the current year's grant on which we have been officially notified is $412,871, only $2,000 more than the 1979-80 grant. There is every indication that some additional money will become available, but the rate of increase experienced in previous years probably will not materialize."

"While we are limited in the economies we can make at this time, it seems prudent to take what steps we can—eliminating the summer school program for a saving in excess of $6,000, and removing the funds budgeted for meeting attendance, to save about $3,000."

"The latter is consistent with the attitude of the State Office of Education in denying approval of attendance by one of our teachers at the National Early Childhood Conference."

"Some minor savings can be made in other accounts which do not affect or change the program."

The budget changes were reviewed last week with the Title I Parent Advisory Council.

The school district has renewed for 1981 its contract with the Madison County Office of Manpower Development to refer in-school youths for part-time employment.

Coordinated by Roy D. McConkey, the program utilizes him during the summer and several school counselors during the school term. Total funds received by the district under the contract will be $5,940.

Job information, counseling, guidance and placement services will be made available to participating young people, estimated to total 42.

The Coast Guard Auxiliary will award certificates to each boater who completes the course.

Caffeine-alcohol link?
Some scientific studies, still in the preliminary stages, suggest a possible link between heavy doses of caffeine and a craving for alcohol. One researcher says as much as nine cups of coffee a day may trigger a desire for alcohol.

Living with inflation on a limited income

By RICHARD SHEPHERD, Executive Secretary, National Association of Mature People

Inflation is a heavy burden on anyone's budget. But if you have to live on a fixed income, you are feeling the pressure even more.

Despite what a lot of people imagine that the automatic cost of living increases for Social Security recipients can do for their financial situation, the facts are that nearly six persons out of 10 over 60 live a "hand-to-mouth" existence.

All expert financial advice falls here, because such advice is usually based on three concepts:

1. One's income, whatever it may be, is adequate when properly managed. 2. High-yield and low-risk investments, as well as paying off high-interest loans. 3. Saving on taxes.

The first thing you discover is that your income and your needs are "fixed."

But prices for goods and services go up, not they're going up, up, up.

And unless you have made some wise investments in earlier years, your monthly pension benefits will probably leave you little more than an emergency fund.

If you belong to this group of retirees, even the fanciest footwork of a tax expert won't do you any good because you are probably not able to itemize deductions.

In fact, you might as well face it: you can't fight inflation. All you can do is to learn to cope with it by being a "small consumer, even a penny pincher."

Let's begin by taking a close look at your standard monthly expenses. First, if you own a home, check on your homeowners insurance. Compare your coverage and premiums with an equal insurance from another company. Find out how much you could save if you would carry a bit more of the risk.

For example, if you have $50 deductible insurance and you would change it into $200 deductible, the amount you will have to pay in case of insured damage before the insurance pays, the premiums will be considerably lower. The same rule is true for automobile insurance.

Many car owners hesitate to file small claims, because they fear that their rates might go up as a result or their policies might be cancelled when they come up for renewal. So why not save on the premiums?

It's time also to re-evaluate your life and medical insurance.

There are two basic kinds of life insurance: "whole" (also called "straight" or "ordinary") and "term."

Both offer financial security for your beneficiaries. In other words, they pay after death.

But "whole" life insurance is also somewhat of a savings plan because a cash value is accumulated.

In case of financial emergency, you can borrow money up to the current cash value of your policy at a considerably lower interest rate than loan institutions would charge.

But, therefore, the "whole" life insurance costs you much higher premiums than the "term."

In addition to regular "term," there is also a "decreasing term" policy, which means the amount of the premium stays the same but the coverage decreases in later years.

Considering that as you grow older and the need to secure the home mortgage and living expenses for other family members decreases, this "decreasing term" can be a money saver.

Though it can be dangerous, make sure you are not underinsured. It is particularly true for medical insurance.

Examine your policies, even the fine print, for possible duplication of coverage. Especially, compare coverage with what's already included in Medicare. Drop what you don't need.

Remember also that paying premiums annually is cheaper than quarterly or monthly pay plans. Besides, any passenger, James Farns, 21, who allegedly refused to give police his address, was charged with criminal damage to property.

ILLINOIS LIBRARY USAGE ANALYZED
Jin Edgar, secretary of state and Illinois state librarian, this week announced publication of "Analyses of the 1979-80 Illinois Public Library Statistics," a supplement to public library statistical data for 1979-80.

Secretary Edgar said the 87-page document gives averages of earlier data for six population groups and the 11 library systems in Illinois. It also has 16 ratios and percentages for the 579 public libraries in the state, and a range of ratios for the population groups and systems.

In state competition, team and individual awards will be given.

Bellevue Area College will be host to students from regional high schools who will match their mathematical, science and English skills in the first round of statewide testing Feb. 20.

Bellevue's East and Red Bud high schools will attempt to repeat as regional winners in their divisions in the fourth annual test of engineering aptitude, mathematics and science.

Participants will register from 9 to 10 a.m. in the BAC theater, followed by the first examination period from 10 to 11 a.m.

The second examination will be from 11:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. Students will take a lunch break until 2 p.m., when they will return to BAC for presentation of awards.

Registration is $2 per student.

Winners will travel to the University of Illinois in Champaign March 6 and 7 for the state finals, sponsored by the Illinois Society of Professional Engineers and the Junior Engineering Technical Society.

Each school will be represented by a team of six to 12 students. They will take tests in biology, chemistry, English, graphics, mathematics and physics.

Each student may compete in two subjects, the two highest scores of each team determine the composite team score.

Schools compete in one of two classes—those with 750 or more students enrolled, and those with fewer than 750.
